Acalanes Trustees Mum on Unification

Final County Report Is Due at April 1st Meet

By JACK SEYMOUR

Efforts to get the Acalanes High School District trustees to say whether or not they are in favor of school district unification proved fruitless last Monday night.

Board members present would only say that they have "participated in and have been following" the current study by a County Unification Study Committee.

The regular board meeting was held at district offices at Acalanes High School.

Board members William Freeman and Mrs. Alice McBride were absent.

MEANWHILE, the Walnut Creek School District Board of trustees came out as "unofficially approving" unification with Lafayette, Orinda, Moraga and Canyon. (See separate story.)

The issue at the Acalanes meeting came up when Mrs. Henry E. Luebkeman, 1320 El Curtola Boulevard, Walnut Creek, interrupted the scheduled proceedings of the board by asking the $64,000 question:

"Has this board come to any definite conclusions for or against unification?"

MRS. LUEBKEMAN said that there is to be a meeting April 1 of the county committee at which time all school boards are to make known their position on unification.

"There is an appalling lack of information about unification going to the taxpayers," she said.

Superintendent of Schools Neil Parsons said that Dr. Ralph C. Hall, board member, is trustees' representative on the committee.

"THE PURPOSE of the committee is to come up with a plan after the study is completed," he said.

Dr. Hall said that "if the committee feels there is not enough interest in unification it will drop the idea."

"HOW CAN the people be interested?" Mrs. Luebkeman asked. "They aren't getting information about it."

"THE MEETINGS are open to the public," Dr. Hall replied. Copies of the minutes of the meetings are available from the county superintendent of schools office, he added.

Quoting figures, Mrs. Luebkeman said that she felt money could be saved through unification. She asked if the board "has a committee of its own to study unification?"

Will C. Hall, another board member, said the group did not.

Mrs. Luebkeman began to quote figures again but was cut short by Board President Lee.

"YOU GOT the same answers to your questions at the Lafayette meeting, did you not?" he demanded.

Lee was referring to the March 9 meeting of the Lafayette Elementary School District Board of Trustees.

At that time, Lafayette Board Member W. B. Scarborough accused the Acalanes School Board of "dragging its feet" in moves to unify school districts.

VISIBLY ANGERED by Mrs. Luebkeman's questions, Lee said "I don't think we are going to do the district or the school children any good by continuing this discussion."

Lee continued, "I have been assured of apologies by Mr. Scarborough and Boardman Moore (president of the Lafayette School Board) regarding last week's meeting. . . ."

Scarborough said Wednesday night that he was "unhappy" with the account of the Lafayette board meeting in The Sun.

"To use the word 'accused' was an unfair thing to do," he said.

WHEN ASKED what word he would substitute for "accused," Scarborough had no suggestions.

In the Wednesday night interview, Scarborough said "there is no doubt that the Acalanes board is against unification. This is the board's privilege."

He continued, "I don't see any reason for creating disharmony between boards. These people are friends of mine and I don't want to do anything to disturb our relationship."

SCARBOROUGH said the possibility of unification is "remote—in any event."

Both Scarborough and Moore said they telephoned Lee about the article in The Sun.

Moore said Wednesday night that he called Lee "to assure him that the headlines did not mean that we are at political odds with the high school board.

"We feel we should let our neighbors in on our position before they have to read it in the newspapers.

"UPON RE-READING the article I feel that it fairly presented what transpired at the board meeting," he said.

Teachers Ask For $153,000 Salary Boost

A salary boost of $153,000 per year in addition to the annual normal step increases of $35,000 has been asked by faculty members of the Acalanes High School District.

Representatives of the Acalanes Education Association met with district trustees at the board's regular meeting held Monday night in district offices.

IF GRANTED the total wage hike could bring the district payroll for the fiscal year 1959-60 to $1,205,000 for teaching salaries alone.

Estimated payroll for 1959-60 before possible increases is $1,052,000. The latter figure includes the $35,000 normal step increases.

THE DISTRICT tax rate could be affected if the increases are granted.

Current tax rate is $1.72 per $100 assessed valuation. The legal limit the board can set is $1.83 per $100 assessed valuation.

However, it could go higher—but only by a direct vote of the people.

JAMES NELSON, education association president, presented the wage requests to the board. He was assisted by Robert Stevens, chairman of the faculty's salary committee.

The teachers are asking for a 14.6% increase in salaries with a reduction in time for earning the maximum from the present 15 years to 12 years.

FACULTY MEMBERS are now operating under a schedule with a minimum of $4,440 per year to a maximum of $8,200.

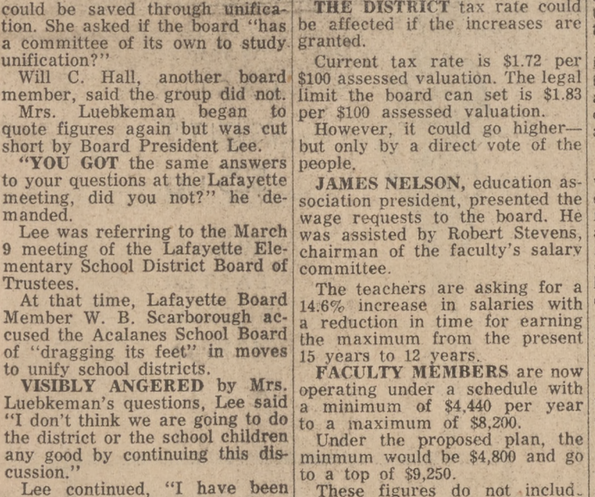

Under the proposed plan, the minmum would be $4,800 and go to a top of $9,250.

These figures do not include extra compensation for additional duties such as coaching.

Teachers also requested enlargement of the present district policy granting credit for placement on the district salary schedule for experience in teaching elsewhere.

CURRENT POLICY allows one year of teaching elsewhere for three steps on the schedule with an additional grant of up to five years for seven years of teaching experience outside the district.

Faculty members seek year-for-year credit up to 10 years applied to new instructors as well as teachers currently employed.

PRESSING for Acalanes School Board members to voice opinions on the question of unified school districts are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Luebekeman, 1320 El Curtola Blvd., Walnut Creek. The Luebekemans were not successful in their attempt to have the board take an official stand on the matter.

County Budget Controls Urged To Grand Jury

The Contra Costa County Grand Jury's special staff of auditors has recommended the county cinch up on its financial controls.

The auditing firm of Peat, Marwidk, Mitchell & Company reported to Grand Jury Foreman Edward A. Valentino a six point program by which the county could better control funds and perform internal financial audits on a regular basis.

THE AUDITORS recommended the appointment of a County Budget Control Officer; tightening of the fee collection system in the county recorder's office and the examination annually of the social welfare office's books.

The auditors urged the county grand jury to put an end to the comingling of funds in the Richmond marshal's office; discontinuing petty cash expenditures there from the marshal's personal funds and reconciling of trust accounts in the San Pablo marshal's office.

THE GRAND JURY received recommendations to establish an effective review of charges and accounts receivable in the county hospital and to stop the cashing of personal checks in the Richmond Municipal Court.

The auditors proposed that a uniform numbered receipt plan be installed in the recorder's office to cover a recording fee record for money estimated to amount to 95 per cent of the department.

The office has been under control of County Clerk Walter T. Paasch since the removal in 1957 of Recorder Ralph Cunningham.

THE REPORT said it found no internal audit has been performed "for extended periods" in several departments.

It said that in the social welfare office, for example, "the last internal audit was in 1954 following a misappropriation.

"It is recommended that each department or office in the county be examined by internal auditors at least annually."

The report noted, in commenting on the 1957-58 budget that the unappropriated reserve amounted to $882,200 and the unexpended balance to $1,049,813, adding:

"THESE large amounts indicate that either a large budget was adopted or that a number of projects were postponed. The magnitude of the county budget and the multiplicity of departments and offices suggest that consideration be given to establishing the position of budget officer."

Such a post was created last February, according to Donald Funk, assistant county auditor.

After reviewing the report, Valentino commented to The Sun that the county should tighten up on its budget controls.

"The county is entering the stages of big business and should operate as one. The days when the county was small and a handful of people controlled the budgetary system are gone and a thorough accounting system must be established," the foreman asserted.

VALENTINO PRAISED the work of the auditors and pointed out it would be well for the grand jury to commission a separate group of auditors each year.

Ralph Hickcox Is Promoted

Ralph T. Hickcox of Orinda has been appointed technical assistant to the president of Oliver Tire and Rubber Company, Oakland.

Hickcox joined the company in January 1958. He was educated in chemical engineering at the University of California and formerly was west coast manager of the Chemical Division, San Francisco.

Danny Doomed to Die Unless . . .

Orinda Postman's Son Must Have Rare Surgery

A charming little boy with a mischievous gleam in his eyes and a quick, happy smile is doomed to die soon unless a rare and delicate heart operation can be performed quickly.

Even then, medical authorities say, his chances of recovery are one in four.

The boy is Danny Isola, 7½, son of Orinda postman Larry Isola, and his wife Peggy.

Orinda residents have formed a committee to collect at least $5000 to send Danny to Chicago's Children's Memorial Hospital where the operation can be performed if funds are available.

Mrs. Harold Engman, 9 Robert Road, is chairman of a "Dollars for Danny" Drive to finance the operation.

Dr. Saul Robinson, head of the cardiac section of Stanford Lane Hospital, San Francisco, who has been treating Danny, says immediate surgery is required.

DANNY IS suffering from a rare ailment known as transposition of the great blood vessels.

This means that his blood is flowing in a reverse direction through his heart. Consequently his red corpuscles are building up in adverse ratio to the white corpuscles.

The operation could be performed by Dr. Thomas G. Baffes who perfected the operation. He recently successfully operated on David Stewart, the 29-month-old Sharp Park boy who had the same condition Danny has.

In David's case, Bay area residents contributed $10,000 to help the boy's parents finance the surgery.

IF THE "Dollars for Danny" campaign meets its goal, the operation would be the second one in history to be performed.

Danny's father, Larry, is also a caddy at the Orinda Country Club and is known and admired by residents along his mail route and at the club.

Danny's mother, Peggy, had a nervous breakdown last year as a result of worry over Dannys' plight. The Isolas live at 3155 Wildwood Drive, Concord.

FRANK ISOLA, Dannys' uncle, was a recent Orinda Man of the Year and is director of the elementary school recreation department.

Contributions to the "Dollars for Danny" fund may be mailed to William A. Polk, manager, Central Valley National Bank, Orinda. Checks should be made out to "Dollars for Danny" Fund.

Among the Orinda residents who are on the committee to help little Danny are Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Voight, C. E. Betz, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Calvin Schaefer, Mrs. Barbara Wulfert, Mrs. Howard Brazee and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Harrer.

AN ORGANIZATIONAL meeting of the committee will be held tomorrow at 1 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tilton, 65 Rheem Boulevard, Orinda.

Danny has a brother, Michael, age 10.

DOOMED TO DIE unless rare heart surgery can be performed, Danny Isola, 7½, rides his bicycle in front of his home. Orinda residents have begun a "Dollars for Danny" campaign to send the little boy to Children's Memorial Hospital in Chicago for the delicate surgery.

Green Light Flashes For $26,000 Signal

A $26,000 five-way traffic signal will be installed at the notorious Brookwood Road intersection "sometime after the start of the fiscal year July 1."

John Ogden, chamber of commerce president, reported this to chamber members at the group's meeting held Tuesday at Casa Orinda.

OGDEN POINTED out that the "situation is complex, to say the least."

Of the five streets involved, he said, "three are state roads and two belong to the county."

"This means," he said, "that both state and county approval must be obtained before installation can begin."

The $26,000 cost will be split on a 3-2 ratio, Oden said.

THE INTERSECTION is the scene of daily congestion, with vehicles coming from five directions, C. E. Betz, chamber secretary observed.

The signal will be a "fully actuated, five way job," Ogden said.

Chamber members authorized Betz to write to state and county officials urging speed on the project.

Bring Your Own Shovels to Tree Planting Party

"Come to the tree planting party and bring your own shovel!"

That was the invitation extended to Orindans this week by John Ogden, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

JAYCEES will do the actual planting Saturday, March 27, Ogden said, "but more agile members of the community are invited, too."

Approximately 15 olive trees will be planted near Lucky Market, C. E. Betz, chamber secretary said. They cost approximately $150.

STANLEY ALLEN, project chairman, said that a partial list of donors to the tree planting includes American Association of University Women, Oak Springs Homes Association, Lost Valley Improvement Association, Newcomers Club, Orinda Art Center, Orinda Garden Club and Orinda Valley Garden Club.

35-Mile Speed Limit Explained

The 35-mile posted limit on Camino Pablo was explained to members of the Orinda Association at the group's meeting Monday night.

Mark Kermit, county traffic engineer, said the 35 m.p.h. limit was posted "as a result of surveys which we made."

THE ENGINEER pointed out that "85% of the motorists using the thoroughfare traveled at that approximate rate of speed." This was proven by the survey check the county made at the location.

The survey, authorized and actually required under existing laws, showed that 85% of the drivers traveled at the rate of 41 m.p.h., averaging 33½ m.p.h.

"There is always a 'lunatic fringe' of some 15% of all motorists who exceed speed limits no matter where they are," he said.

"An 'End 35' sign indicates that motorists should have been traveling under or near that rate of speed," he said. These signs usually are posted before areas which require a 25 m.p.h. limit, Kermit told the association.

Miramonte Pool to Open In July; $25,000 Donated

A large bundle of checks was dumped on the Acalanes School Board table Monday night—$25,000 worth, in fact.

Wrapped with rubber bands, the checks represented the Orinda community's contributions toward the $60,000 swimming pool for Miramonte High School. The district will pay the difference between the $25,000 and the final total cost of the pool.

Mrs. Billie Bowles of the citizens' committee for a Miramonte pool presented the bundle to the board.

UP UNTIL Monday noon the $25,000 goal was $1,7700 short. A check for $1,300 was given by Utah Construction Co. and Preston Management Co., owners of Moraga Ranch.

At a noon rally at Miramonte, students passed a blanket instead of a hat and collected, in a matter of minutes, $401.69 to push the fund over the top by 69 cents.

The young people were given a half holiday as a reward for the last minute push.

AT THE SCHOOL board meeting, trustees paid tribute to the students, their parents and residents of Orinda, Moraga and Canyon, who gave to the fund.

Dr. Ralph C. Hall, trustee, said the drive was "remarkable."

He added, "This is the 'workingest' committee I've ever seen. They have been holding meetings every week. Their public relations committee did an outstanding job in getting the story across to the people."

"UNBELIEVABLE," was the word used by Board President William Lee to describe the community effort.

Spencer Archer, public relations chairman, said the $25,000 includes pledges which the committee has underwritten. "In other words," he explained, "the committee advanced actual cash to cover pledges for which we have not yet received contributions."

ARCHER URGED residents who signed pledges to send their money to the committee in care of Merle Brown at American Trust Company, Orinda.

The trustees directed District Architect Richard Banwell to forward the pool plans to the state division of architecture in Sacramento.

Approval of the plans is expected by the end of this week and bids will be called for as soon as the okay comes through.

BANWELL told the board the project will be completed on or before July 9.

Other committee members present at the board meeting included Dr. Nelson Webster, Merle Brown, Katie Flint, Mr. and Mrs. Moore Pilgrim, Jim Lewis, Miramonte principal; and Mr. and Mrs. Archer.

W. U. BARNES presets checks for $1300 from Utah Construction Company and Preston Management Company, owners of Moraga Ranch, to bridge the gap and help Miramonte students reach their $25,000 goal for a new swimming pool. Jim Lewis, left, principal of Miramonte, accepts the check with thanks, while Judy Ageno, student body secretary, and Mike Wilmar, student body president, look on. Presentation was made in Lewis' office at the school. Barnes is a local resident who is in charge of Moraga Ranch operations and development. —Sun photo by Rod Lomas

Tennis Tourney May Be Largest Held in U.S.

More than 450 California boys and girls will keep 22 Orinda tennis courts busy tomorrow when the second annual Orinda Junior Tennis Tournament opens its five-day schedule.

Four hundred entries have been received by Tuesday according to Kevin Merrick, Orinda Country Club tennis professional, and Vincent Angwin of the Piedmont Junior Chamber of Commerce, co-chairmen of the joint planning committee.

ENTRANTS, who must be between 11 and 18 years of age, include 200 Bay area youths and 150 from the remainder of Northern California.

United States Lawn Tennis Association officials are checking to see if this tournament, which is also the fifth annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Tennis Tournament, may not be the largest ever held in the U.S.

Winners will represent California in the National Junior Chamber of Commerce Tennis Tournament, to be held in Phoenix, Ariz., Aug. 2-8.

The tournament committee will entertain entrants with a Saturday evening dinner dance at the Country Club. First run movies will be shown every evening of the competition.

Summer Program Registration Eased by School

Course listings for the fifth Orinda School District summer enrichment program will be mailed to all Orinda parents during Easter vacation, March 23-27.

The Orinda Summer School program, which has already received wide recognition for its large course offerings, has further expanded the program for the coming summer, both in foreign language and the creative arts.

IN PAST years, one of the greatest problems has been registering students for the summer courses.

In an effort to overcome these difficulties, a system has been devised whereby parents need not come to the school to register their children. The following procedure will be used:

On April 2, each child will have enclosed in his or her report card an informational letter and a summer school registration card.

Included in the letter will be information regarding the opening and closing dates of registration (April 2-10) and the return of the registration cards.

In order to accommodate the increased enrollment, pupils in Grades 1-5 will attend either Sleepy Hollow, Glorietta or Del Rey.

Students will enroll for the school which they normally attend during the regular school year, with the exception of Orinda School students, who will be enrolled at Sleepy Hollow.

Courses for all students in Grades 6-8 will be held at Pine Grove.

All students in Grades 1-8 who plan to enroll in the creative arts program will once again attend the Orinda School.

Information regarding outdoor education for present 5th graders will be distributed at a later date.

Seed Plantings Staked, Watered By Girl Scouts

Hearing that seedlings on the Freeway behind Orinda Village needed water, Girl Scout Troop 213 under the leadership of Mrs. Lloyd Hecathorn responded last Saturday morning by taking care of the seedlings they planted last January.

Tubs and milk cans of water were loaded on a trailer and taken to the ramp leading onto Diablo Highway toward Oakland.

This is where the community landscaping begins — with eucalyptus and pine seedlings.

The girls staked, watered and put sawdust on more than 100 seedlings.

They were Christine Block, Susan Hickcox, Lorna Wallace, Toni Brothers, Marsha Mjolsnes, Milo Anne Hecathorn, Carol Courant, Ginny Phair.

They were aided in finding the seedlings by Kris and Debbie Hecathorn, Brownies of Troop 541.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

When Irish Eyes Were Smiling

ST. PATRICK'S Day in Suburbia . . . Out Moraga Way, the milkman of one company jauntily deliverying his dailies wearing a jaunty green cap. One of the Dairy-folk looking like the Irish Fairy-folk.

In the Orinda Drug Store, Adele Kiernan coped w/colds & cough syrup behind the counter looking happy as the little leprechaun on a lapel pin she wore on her white collar. And she was sportin' jade earrings, too! Good Irish name, one of the best, that Kiernan!

TOP O' THE MORNIN' last Tuesday, it was . . . and there, Begorrah, was Dance Teacher Lila Murphy hailed & then assailed by a friend in town when she was spotted wearing a black dress on HER DAY. But Lila was quick to pluck a green handkerchief from her sleeve. Irish linen, no less, so she was forgiven!

Leighton deMaeyer in Black's, busy pushing the old Irish Poteen (Bushmill's, Usher's, etc. for Irish Coffee) was sportin', mind you, a green satin tie w/the name OLD Fitz thereon.

AND WHO HAD the Luck to be sharin' the day's honors w/the Patron Saint? None other than Frank Brush whose B'day it was. And he's not even Irish!

IRISH EYES were smilin' at the Orinda County Club's Dance last Saturday nite. Esp. pretty was Betty Bergen in a chiffon-bodiced kelly green frock. . . Another bright green dress on Shirley Hotchkiss, a portrait print in green for Phoebe Allen, too. Dorothy Lundblad's black & white houndstooth-check was in giant squares, Irish hounds-tooth, we guess. The Wellington Ray's were telling of their travels in Dublin last fall.

A BASKET OF SHAMROCKS to Leo Villa, Orinda Country Club employee, who did the most sumptuous decorating job transforming the club into a Little Bit of Ireland. He has that Touch of Artistry in the decorations he creates for many of the Club's most festive parties.

Did your Mother come from Ireland?

IRISH CARDS, cocktail napkins & shamrock decorations were fast-selling items, but by Tuesday night it was clear that the boneless brisket was being bypassed for something else on the dinner table. Doesn't ANYBODY cook Corned Beef & Cabbage anymore?

The Irish have contributed a wonderful cultural heritage w/their writers, their music, their history & their downright delightful blarney.

We didn't see a single clay pipe or green shamrock pasted in the school hallways but were glad to hear that the current reading choice for some of the classes were the Irish tales. They make delightful reading for a child or a grownup.

From a recent news article, we learned a little more about the Little Folk Ireland is famous for . . . The Clurichaun who is the playboy among the little people & is considered a gay-blade sort of Leprechaun on a spree. There are the seagoing sprites, the Merrows, Irish to the core & green from teen to fish tail. The Goncerer is a solitary elf who inhabits lonesome valleys & woos shy shepherdesses & milk maids. The bad ones, Beware, are the Banshees, straggly-haired wailing whining women. And no remarks, please that you know plenty of THESE!

FROM the run on cards & green crepe paper, it's obvious this holiday is just as important to many of us as Valentine's & the others.

THANKS to friends Sib & Hal O'Flaherty, here's a bit of the Gaelic & its translation—"Acushla Agus Astora Machree" meaning "The pride & delight of my heart". Like it? We do too!

A Few Lines from the Blarney Stone

A BIT OF BLARNEY . . . If you see petite Hazel Wilcox toting a big suitcase around, well, she's NOT leaving town. She's just playing the part, her new role — as Importer of Thai silks.

When someone asked Emmarie Gibbs Reid what she was going to do in the writing line now that the Diablo View mag is dead, died, doggone it! she blithely retorts that she'll get busy on a Novel—kind of a cross between "The Egg & I" and (Oh, no!) "Peyton Place!"

The 3-yr. old dghtr. of one of our local ladies came out of the Village Beauty shop shorn of her long curls. A passer-by asked the young missy how she liked her new haircut & the little princess piped up — "I think it makes me look younger, don't you?"

THE SANTA MARIA Rummage Sale netted approx. $2800, so expect to see yourself, children & husband all over town! $2200 of that amount was raised right here in Orinda by the wise shoppers who flocked to the preview sales over a period of 3 wks.

MISS THE OLD RAGS, BOTTLES & SACK MAN? We do, too . . . A wonderful Character of Our Time w/his weathered face, his wiry wife, the two of them driving around in their wrickety-wreck of a buggy drawn by a tired old horse who wore a straw hat & blinkers on his big sad eyes. Well, the modern version of the Rag Man is the Rag Drive. Orinda Parents Club are collecting now through April 7. Please bring boxed rags to Orinda School or call Marion Long, CL 4-3402 for the info.

THE BOTTLES we can take care of, too. The young PFers of the Orinda Community Church will be scouting around tomorrow for your returnable bottles, single or by the case. The monies derived from the Bottle Drive will help to purchase a Cross for the handsome new church.

THE SACKS? Well, we have no disposition for THEM. But we do have a son who sells Oak Leaf Mold if you feel like leaving them the burlap bags for a fill-up.

All The Gentry Will Be There!

Junior Alliance of Children's Foster Care Services will caper at the Claremont Hotel tomorrow night, a just-for-fun affair for members & husbands, aimed at getting everyone better acquainted.

The Kenneth Hollands of Snowberry Lane will entertain the local gentry beforehand w/the Robert Haafs & the William Ingrams planning to turn up on the threshhold together. The Haafs, by the way, enjoyed the balmy weather & breezes in Carmel Valley recently accompanied by her sister & brother-in-law, Marge & Bill Douglass. The Ingrams, too, are well-tanned after a recent two-week trip to Mexico w/the J. W. Neighbors. Mexico City, Acapulco, Taxco, Quernavaca & Puerto Vallarta were some of the sightlights.

MAKING A QUICK change from Western Duds to formal attire for the JA Dance will be the Ralph Withs, JUST IN from a Las Vegas holiday & a stay at Furnace Creek Inn w/their neighbors, the Harvard Gustafsons.

THE MORE The Merrier at the Hollands will be the H. B. Gardners, the Harold Keenans, Vernon Louises, Charles Martins, Dr. & Mrs. Alan McDowell & the Robert McKenzies. And the merrier, the more, too, are expected the Edward L. Merrills, the junior Roy Mortensens, the Raymond Rhighettis, the junior Albert R. Rubeys & the junior Frances A. Watsons.

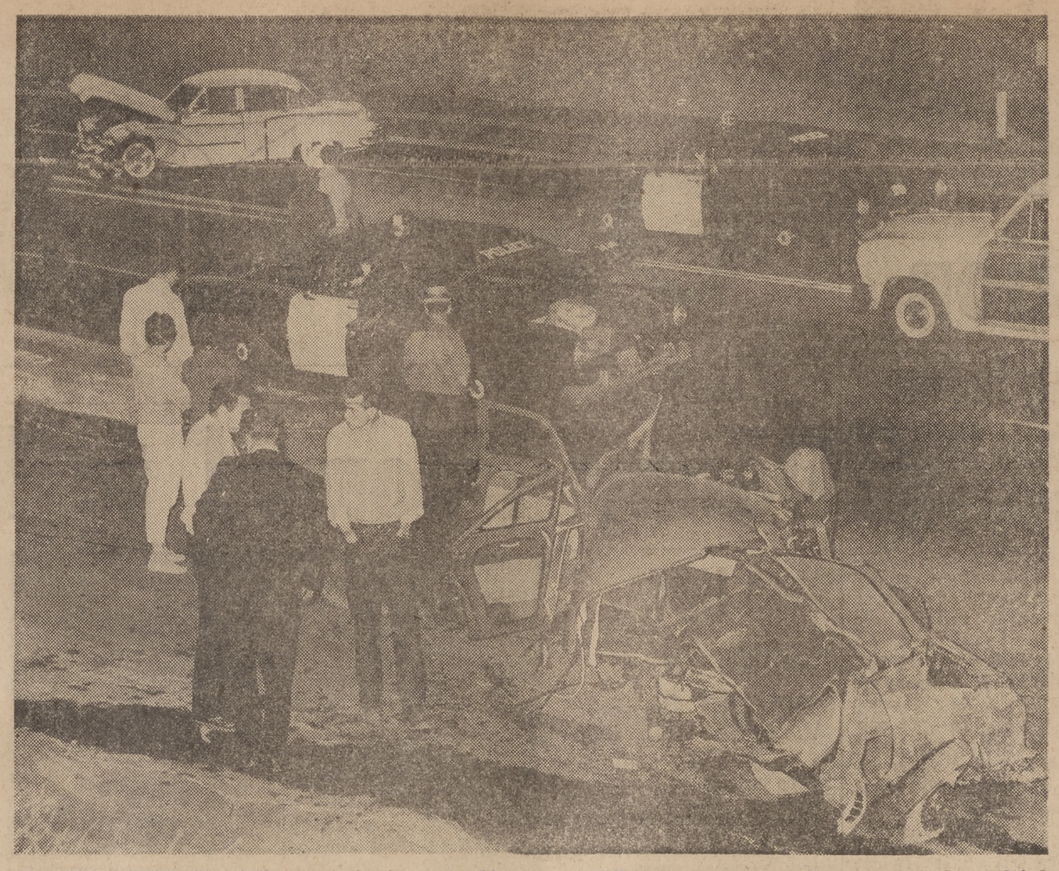

Libations on the city-side of the Tunnel will be enjoyed at the Jack Dreiman domicile by the Gary DuBoises of Lafayette & the Charles M. Andres & junior Robert Eckhoffs of Orinda. The Eckoffs take off next week w/their neighbors the Walter Naumans for a stay at the Dunes in Vegas.

Mary Dorr's delightful book review on March 12 running an hour & a half STILL wasn't long enough. The Way She Does It, some of us could sit there forever.

AGAINST a backdrop of Victorian wrought iron chair, a garden basket filled to the brim w/jonquils & spring flowers, Mary looked like a Fashion page from an Easter Issue. A delft-blue suit, mink-collared and a small blue hat fashioned w/a net-rosette.

Hilja Case & Berdie Eberhart were introducing their new Sleepy Hollow neighbor—Eileen Lee recently moved here from San Fran. . . Reva Ward and new Orioles member Vera Bremer sat together . . . Louise Quinn in blue & wht. polkadots, Madeline Benjamin next to Virginia Stafford, Janet Jannssee catching combs for her Kelly green print ensemble w/a hat of matching material. Dolores Raskob & Monique Lerch another duo.

THE TEA TABLE, fresh as a daisy & much more delicious, was decorated w/blossoms, bunnies & a pretty Panoramic egg. (Eva Parker lending her touch to this!) Here, Ida Zamlock at the silver service . . . Jean Harding, Phyllis Stuart passing trays . . . Pres. Pat Sergeant thanking guests for making the Book Reviews so successful, announcing that tickets for the next one, May 7, will be sold singularly at the Fellowship Hall door, $2.00 for any who would like to attend & hear the Inimitable Mary before her Big Move south Their new home at Malibu is nearing completion. Toodley-oodley-oo!

THIS IS THE WRECKAGE of the small foreign car which smashed into two oncoming autos as it emerged from the west side of the Broadway Tunnel. The driver, Walter Peterson, 17, was killed, but a passenger, Larry Butler, also of Orinda, only suffered minor cuts and bruises. —Tribune photo

High Speed, Sharp Curve Kill Youth, Police Claim

High speed and a sharp curve caused the death of a Miramonte High School senior early last Friday morning, according to the Oakland Police Department.

Walter Peterson, 17, 23 Avenida del Orinda, was killed after he lost control of his car, sideswiped two oncoming vehicles and crashed just west of the Broadway tunnel.

A PASSENGER in Peterson's small foreign car, Larry Butler, 16, 30 Warford Terrace, emerged from the demolished auto with only minor cuts and bruises.

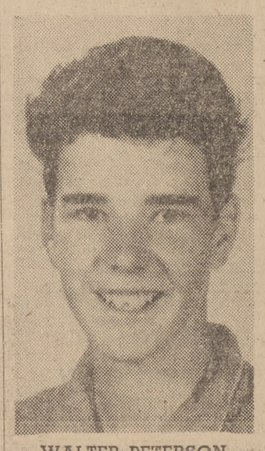

The drivers of the other two cars, Clarence Lee, 53, 1845 Sunnyvale Avenue, Walnut Creek, and Mrs. Marian Eslinger, 1344 Reliez Valley Road, Lafayette, escaped injury.

Witnesses reported to the Oakland Police Department that the youth's car was going 70-80 miles an hour when it came out of the tunnel.

According to Patrolman George S. Hulse, the boy apparently lost control of the car on a curve and veered over the double line.

HULSE SAID the car rolled over and over for some 200 feet after the initial impact with the two other cars.

The victim was the son of Mrs. Dorothy L. Bogg.

Circus Tent Considered for New Post Office

Anybody have an idea for a new home for the post office? Even circus tents are being considered.

The present quarters are inadequate and more space is needed for the growing community, according to Postmaster Laura Mallary.

"I'm really quite concerned about the area we need for Christmas parcel post," she said. "We just won't be able to handle the parcel post load in our present quarters."

Mrs. Mallary said that if new quarters are not obtained "we would be happy if a way could be found to enlarge our present post office."

"We've even priced circus tents!" she said.

Bay Area Transit Board Will Seek Bond Issue

The Bay Area Rapid Transit District will attempt to put a multi-million dollar bond proposal on the November, 1960 ballot.

The directors of the five county super district approved in Martinez March 12 a program by which detailed construction plans for the proposed system will be readied by the 1960 deadline.

THE DIRECTORS authorized negotiations with private engineering firms for preparations of plans which will link the counties of San Francisco, Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin and San Mateo.

The board was informed by General Manager John Peirce that a speed up of engineering planning is necessary if the district is to have plans ready for submission to the boards of supervisors of each county by May, 1960.

He said six months would be necessary to obtain required approval of the boards in advance of any bond election.

ENGINEERING and financial studies were reviewed for the directors by Keneth M. Hoover, chief engineer of the five county rapid transit district.

He recommended the district hire one or more consulting engineering firms to study six major features of the transit plan.

Hoover informed the board it would be necessary to obtain the most efficient and economical means for propulsion, including the study of the possibilities of the use of atomic power.

Hoover said transit research has been neglected in recent years.

"Self propelled vehicles present air pollution problems and other power methods are expensive," the engineer asserted.

FOR EXAMPLE, he cited the district's $72 million estimate for electrification of its train lines.

"Atomic propulsion possibilities should be explored to determine if they can provide lower cost and more efficient operation," Hoover commented.

Hoover outlined that the engineering studies would include the establishment of routes and stations in the district's five counties and 48 cities.

It would establish the need of feeder lines and the determination of the type of and form of system, including the continuation of studies on the use of monorail.

ALSO INCLUDED would be determination of physical facilities required to cross the Golden Gate and research by private manufacturers to develop the type of rolling stock, operation methods, structural designs and fare collection procedures.

The board set the next meeting of the organization for April 9 in San Mateo County. The Martinez meeting was the first meeting of the district's board outside of San Francisco.

Pass English Or Repeat Course, Board Decrees

From now on students of the Acalanes High School District will be required to get passing grades in English before they can advance from one class to a higher one.

This decision was made by the board of trustees at its regular meeting Monday night held in Acalanes High School.

ACTING UPON a recommendation of Superintendent of Schools Neil Parsons, the board said students must obtain a passing grade in English courses before they can advance to the next year's English class.

Up to this time, if student flunked a course he could go on to a higher class.

This could be a continuing state of affairs until he reached the top class where passing would be a condition of graduation.

EXCEPT FOR shop classes, there are no other directly related courses which a student has been able to advance without passing.

In the social studies, Parsons pointed out, a student could fail World Geography but could go on to take U. S. History.

THREE YEARS of English are required for graduation.

Advantage of the prerequisite requirement in English, Parsons said, would be to "stimulate the students to higher achievements in this field." Students who fail will have to repeat the class.

The board unanimously adopted the policy.

Try-Outs for Dramateurs Play

Readings for the next production of the Dramateurs will be held Tuesday, March 24, at 8 p.m., according to Carl Rasmussen, the group's director.

Three plays are being considered, he said. They are "Visit to a Small Planet," "Janus," and "Ondine."

"Everyone is welcome to come and try out or just sit and watch," Rasmussen said.

Interested persons may call Town Hall on Tuesday night to find out the progress of the auditions. The phone number is ATlantic 4-9965.

"Or they can call the Orinda Chamber of Commerce any time," he added. The number there is CL 4-4141.

Bridge Toll Battle Looms Between 'Super Districts'

The proposed Golden Gate Authority faced its greatest opposition this week as the Bay Area Rapid Transit District prepared to fight for Bay Bridge tolls.

The rapid transit district issued a statement indicating the Golden Gate Authority will not be acceptable unless the bay bridge tolls are turned over to the district for the construction of a trans-bay tube.

THE DISTRICT'S directors, meeting in Martinez March 12, said rapid transit must take priority over efforts to solve other metropolitan problems.

The Golden Gate Authority legislation seeks to place all the airports, bridges and harbors of the bay area under one legislative body.

The directors of the five county district declared their desire to have an amendment to the proposed law setting aside all the bridge monies for the construction of a tube.

THE BACKERS of the authority have agreed to the principle of setting aside the monies for the tube, but thus far have not made a specific proposal to write the Bay Area Rapid Transit District's proposals into the act.

The basic dispute between the Golden Gate Authority and the Bay Area Rapid Transit District is that both want the bay bridge tolls to support revenue bonds.

The transit directors want revenue bonds for an $84 million tube and some $31 million in approaches in both the San Francisco and Oakland area.

Acalanes Board Joins in Fight Against AB 156

Opposition to Assembly Bill 156 was voiced Monday night by the Acalanes High School District Board of Trustees.

Last week the Lafayette School District board went on record against the proposed legislation.

A.B. 156 would place the final selection of school sites in the hands of local and county planning commissions instead of school boards.

Superintendent of Schools Neil Parsons was directed to write letters to Sen. George Miller and Assemblyman Jerome Waldie expressing the board's opposition to the bill.

School Board Bans Gag On Police Grilling Students

School children should not be placed in the position of "squealing on their parents" without their mothers' and fathers' knowledge, it was decided at the Monday night meeting of the Acalanes High School District board of trustees.

Board members rejected a request by law enforcement agencies which would prohibit notification to parents that their children had been interviewed on school property.

THE MATTER came up when school principals asked the board to adopt a policy covering cases where law enforcement officials asked parents not be notified of such interviews.

Dr. Ralph C. Hall, board member, said, "If someone asks my kid questions, I want to know about it."

Board President William Lee observed that there may have been cases "where the parents were suspected of possession of narcotics and that is why this request may have been made."

"THIS WOULD result in a kid squealing on his parents," Dr. Hall observed.

"I don't like it and I won't go along with this request."

Agreeing with Dr. Hall, Lee reshaped the proposed policy to read that "parents must be informed of any interview of students by law enforcement officers on the school premises."

Originally, the policy had been designed to read, "parents shall be notified . . . except when law enforcement officers make a specific request that they not be notified."

Will C. Hall, also a board member, agreed with the amended version.

William Roy Anderson, who was shot to death as he stood in the doorway of his home at 1 Las Aromas in November 1958, left an estate worth $100,195.

AN INVENTORY and appraisal was filed in Superior Court, Martinez, last Tuesday.

Anderson left his estate to his wife Mayme under provisions of an April, 1955 will.

It includes the couple's $30,500 home and furnishings, $350 in cash, $570 in jewelry and a car worth $3000.

ALSO $3,500 owed the victim by his firm and an agreement for sale of his interest to his surviving partner for $63,000.

Anderson, 60, was head of the collection agency of Anderson and Perkins, Inc., 31 Geary Street, San Francisco.

Commission OKs DA Salary, Job Change Requests

The Contra Costa Civil Service Commission has approved District Attorney John Nejedly's request that examinations for assistant district attorney be held.

The exams will be open to any attorney in the state with six years in practice.

THE POSITION, left vacant by the resignation of Thomas J. McBride, was formerly promotional with two years in the DA's office as the requirement.

The commission also approved the creation of positions of chief criminal deputy, chief civil deputy, and chief area deputy, who will be in charge of the Richmond office of the Contra Costa District Attorney's office.

The commission also recommended to the supervisors the approval of the new salary schedule asked by Nejedly.

IT CALLS for ranges of $950 to $1155 for assistant district attorney, $862 to $1047 for chief civil and criminal deputies and $782 to $950 for chief area deputy.

The assistant district attorney's salary is now $905 to $1100 per month.

It's Mt. Diablo Dogs Versus Oakland Dogs

Dogs of the Mt. Diablo Dog Training Club will compete with their canine counterparts of the Oakland Dog Training Club, March 28 in the Walnut Creek city park.

This challenge match will be open to the public at 2 p.m. free of charge, and will be a training opportunity for all dogs and their trainers who are anticipating the 12th annual Obedience Trials held by the Mt. Diablo Dog Training Club on April 26.

At a recent committee meeting at her home Mrs. Thomas J. Bowen, trials secretary, announced the following list of chairman: Bob McCarthy, chief ring steward; Sam Davis, grounds and equipment; Howard Hooper, premium list and catalog; Esther Baldwin and Pearl Koch, trophy and special awards.

Betty Hooper, entry lists; Helen Lamoureaux, show-time refreshments; Louise Cabral and Winifred Nelson, hostesses for judges' dinner; and Janice Ronneberg, publicity.

During the meeting Mrs. Koch showed the group several of the Saxton trophies which will be presented to the highest scoring dogs in novice A and B, open A and B and utility classes.

The trophies will be displayed in the Recreation Center the day of the trials for all spectators, the trainers and their "Fidos" to see until they are formally awarded in the winners circle at the end of the meet.

Acalanes Youth To Discuss Race Views on Panel

An Acalanes high school student will be featured in a Channel 4 television program at noon this Sunday.

The show asks the question: "Is Youth Color Conscious?"

Mirhammad Jesuf Ismail, exchange student from Indonesia, of 3649 Happy Valley Road, is one of several young people whose views on racial problems are expressed on the half hour show.

The Council for Civic Unity of San Francisco filmed the report at a recent teen agers conference on civil liberties. The conference was sponsored by The American Friends Service Committee and was held at Asilomar, California.

First Change in 22-Year History Told by District

The first change in the board of directors of the Lafayette-Alamo Cemetery District since 1937 was reported recently by Cemetery District Chairman Clinton Jones, constable of the Walnut Creek Judicial District.

Jones announced the appointment of Johnson Thomas Jr. of Lafayette to complete the unexpired term of C. S. McNeil. Other board member is Alden Jones of Alamo, no relation to the board president.

THE LAFAYETTE-Alamo Cemetery District includes the Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Danville, Alamo Elementary School Districts and levies a five cent tax rate.

The district's budget shows that during the year the district spends some $42,800 on maintenance of its two sites, one in Lafayette, the other in Alamo and employes two caretakers.

The district started the fiscal year with $5287 in its confers and expected to sell $1000 worth of plots at $50 per plot.

THE DISTRICT through taxation will raise another $36,671 through its ad valorum tax rate of .047 per $100 of assessed valuation.

Thomas noted that the district is not in competition with private memorial parks, but was formed to perform maintenance services on the established plots.

The most recent burial at the Lafayette plot was one month ago.

The district's board is elected by the people of the district, but no one has filed for the board "in quite a few years," according to Mary Smith, deputy county clerk.

THE CONTRA Costa County Board of Supervisors has no control over the actions of the district's board, but submits its proposed budget to the county.

Collection of taxes for the district is also accomplished by the county on a contracteral basis.

Barcelons Host Party For McKees

A surprise "Housewarming" party for the William McKees at their new home 1271 Redwood Lane, was recently hosted by the Ted Barcelons.

The 30 guests arriving in caravan style caught the McKee's leaving for a dinner invitation to the Ted Taylors in Orinda, which unknown to them had been postponed.

Following the cocktail party and after inspection of the McKees lovely new home atop a three-acre knoll overlooking Happy Valley, the guests enjoved a pot luck supper.

Bill and Lyn McKee and their children Becky, Harper and Josh are long-time residents of Lafayette having formerly resided at 781 Moraga Road.

Supervisors Nay Reopening of Freeway Hearing

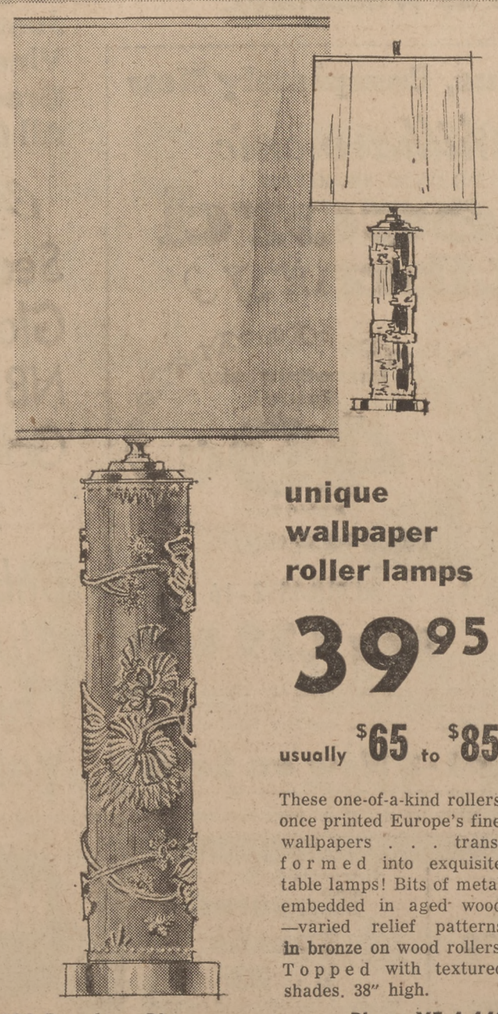

A request by residents living near the proposed Burton Alamo freeway to reopen hearings was denied Tuesday by the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors.

Thomas F. McBride, former assistant district attorney, represented a group of residents who do not agree with the county that the precise alignment, adopted by the county planning commission some months ago, is where the road should actually go.

The supervisors, after some discussion, denied the request because "a number of hearings have been held on the matter and the subject is now closed."

The Burton-Alamo freeway will link Lafayette to Alamo and will cut through the now heavily wooded hills from the Burton Junction of the now defunct section of the Sacramento Northern Railroad to just south of the Alamo Shopping Center.

Spring Cleaning Can Help You

A little spring cleaning during spring vacation will accomplish two ends if those clothes closets are cleared of some of those old worn-out, faded, out-dated or otherwise unusable garments that have been hanging around for too long.

The rag drive at the Orinda school from March 30 through April 7 will help you in that closet cleaning and you will help the Parent's Club in raising funds for some of those little "extras" at the school.

Don't throw those rags away—stach them away to stuff the paper bags the students will be bringing home soon.

Any cottons or woolens will be appreciated but, please, no nylon or other synthetics.

Letters to The Editor

VIEW OF POOL

DEAR EDITOR:

We are very concerned about the way the recent Miramonte Pool Drive was handled, and wonder if anyone else feels as we do? Don't misunderstand—the appeal stripped of tactlessness and implied threat had merit, and we gave the amount they asked for. What has upset us is the way they asked.

First, they lead off by implying that we must keep up with the Jones' schools. Most of us don't give a hoot what other schools needlessly or otherwise spend money for—we are concerned about first, whether our children will have an adequate education, and second whether they have a place to swim.

Second—the method used in the drive smacked of professional fund raising at its worst, when whole hearted community cooperation was needed instead. The campaign was an advertising "hard sell" which can engender tremendous resentment and has, at least, in our neighborhood.

Third, they appear to have been afraid to call the parents in and see if they were interested enough to help. Instead they sent our inexperienced high school kids to their immediate neighbors (for the sympathy angle, no doubt). Sending a child to a neighbor to ask for money—a child unable to comprehend when he is refused and why! Nor can the neighbor tell a child why he is not, or cannot give.

Fourth, they apparently used a master mailing list and an addressograph system, which I hope was not public property, on a card which had almost as much information on it as a credit rating, listing children in school, amount given, and requiring a personal signature.

While probably not intentional, many of our neighbors thought it smacked of blackmail — what would be said to Johnny if Mom and Dad (in a bind at tax time) gave only $2 out of the grocery money instead of the $5 per family member asked of them. If not—why keep an itemized, numbered, record — for the next bite? Or will it influence Johnny's treatment in our schools?

This campaign could have had dignity and community appeal. It could have been more carefully explained that the pool can be built except for $25,000 by the careful administration of a dedicated and competent school board.

Responsible community and neighbors who were carefully educated as to the background and needs of the campaign (and not just indoctrinated in how to get the most money out of people) should have been soliciting, rather than children to whom adult friends and close neighbors cannot express their strong feelings.

I know of some who cut down their contribution, others who omitted it, and even though we gave what was asked of us, we did so somewhat reluctantly because we felt we were being threatened through our children and our neighbors.

Instead of a willing drive it has been a farce — and farces are sometimes profitable — but it has left a very sour taste for the next one.

Also emphasizing the power of prayer are passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following (15:9): "To enter into the heart of prayer, the door of the erring senses must be closed. Leprechauns at Club Meet

Every day is a birthday or anniversary for someone.

St. Patrick's Day was especially worthy of note at the El Nido. Several of the Soroptimists of the Lafayette-Orinda club were inspired to cut capers, sing songs and dance.

AT THE meeting Tuesday, the members and many guests enjoyed the effervescent performance of Mrs. Gravlis Vossler as that pygmy of Irish folklore, the leprechaun.

In a costume of shamrock-hue, with horns on her head, glasses on her nose and tricks up her sleeve, Mrs. Vossler pranced around or sat mischieviously on the piano.

Jane Petorio, also in appropriate green and using a charming Irish brogue, was mistress-of-ceremonies.

She introduced the cast of singers: Mrs. Alma Blakesly, Mrs. Jay Bedsworth, Mrs. Velora Newell and Mrs. Ola Waldie.

AFTER THEY sang and cavorted to the strains of "I'm Looking Over a Fourleaf Clover", there was audience participation in an Irish joke session.

Mrs. Alma Mendell and Mrs. Bedsworth in costume gave a pantomime of "Who Put the Overalls in Mrs. Murphy's Chowder?" They then joined the chorus in a tap-dance to the tune of "Sweet Rosey O'Grady".

The Orinda Woman's Club recently sponsored four Miramonte high school senior students in the Hallmark Art contest.

They competed for a scholarship to any art school or college approved by the General Federation of Women's Clubs and Hallmark. Theme was "The Character of America."

ENTRIES for the art contest sponsored by the federation were displayed for judging at their March district meeting.

Judges of the are entries were Mrs. James McDonald, district art chairman; Mrs. George Gail, president of the Pleasant Hill Woman's Club; and Mrs. Bert F. Clintsman, Richmond Women's City Club.

WINNERS and the sponsoring clubs are as follows: Heidi Von Guenther (Circus) of the Los Lomas High School, sponsored by the Walnut Creek Women's Club; Michael Biswell (Vanishing Americans) of Rodeo, sponsored by the Carquinez Women's Club of Crockett; Pat Wilkie (Lights of Industry) of Orinda tied with Joan Corelis (Suspended Knowledge) of Orinda, both from Miramonte High School and sponsored by the Orinda Woman's Club.

Mrs. C. Freeman Bishop, club art chairman, has also actively promoted many other club are projects this year.

During American Art Week which coincided with the opening of the Orinda Library, the club's main philanthropic project for the past few years, Mrs. Bishop contributed to the community art exhibit in the library.

THE CLUB also continues to sponsor the "Art Corner" at the Orinda Pharmacy.

Each month new paintings are collected from local artists in an effort to acquaint the community with the work being done by the contemporary artists of our area.

A section of the Orinda Woman's Club visited several art galleries. Mrs. Bishop introduced them to the newly built Arts and Crafts College gallery, Oakland. They then went on to the De-Young Museum and the Eric Locke gallery with their just opened graphic art exhibit.

Ex Baseball Pro Faces Sheriff's Check Charges

A former professional baseball player has been accused of cashing 25 bad checks in the Pleasant Hill-Walnut Creek area by the Contra Costa County Sheriff's office.

In addition to the passing of checks in this area, Henry R. Franzen, 34, was sought in connection with check charges in Martinez, Berkeley, Concord, Antioch and Pittsburg.

Franzen, 66 Los Medanos Avenue, Pittsburg, was arrested by Sheriff's Detective Lee Gallamore who had been searching for him since February 1.

Gallamore said that Franzen, father of six children, ranging in age from three months to 11 years, is wanted by Berkeley, Pittsburg and Concord police on check charges.

The officer said that Franzen's wife also has sworn out a "failure to provide" complaint against him.

Franzen told Gallamore he pitched for Dallas in the Texas League until he was injured last year. He had been employed by a chemical plant.

Grand Jury To Report On Fire Case

The Contra Costa County Grand Jury will submit its final report on the activities of the East Contra Costa Fire Protection District April 1, according to Edward Valentino, grand jury foreman.

The Grand Jury has been investigating since January reports that tax monies were used to pay for classified advertisements in the Contra Costa telephone directory for Marsh Creek Lodge, which is owned and operated by Gerould L. Gill, coommissioner and chief of the east county district.

The Grand Jury is also investigating, according to Valentino, salaries which were paid to Gill's wife and sons by the fire district.

John A. Nejedly and Valentino refused to comment on "additional information" which Nejedly submitted to the Grand Jury early in the week.

"The Grand Jury will issue a statement following its meeting April 1. At that time I feel our investigations will be completed," said the grand jury foreman.

New Sub-Division Plans Approved

Neither Black nor Is It White...a Decision

Few proposals are either entirely black or white.

This might be rephrased to state, few innovations in our county government will correct an entire situation.

An example of this is the proposed legislation which would allow the creation of a county fire protection district.

Under the provisions of Assembly Bill 919, all fire protection districts in the county would be abolished and all would go under the jurisdiction of the Contra Cost Fire Protection Authority.

Proponents of this bill offer the following advantages.

1. COORDINATION among fire districts would no longer be a problem. Similarly, fire trucks would not have to drive right past the fire house of another district to fight a fire in their own district, as is the case now in some parts of this county.

2. The tax rate would be reduced through an equalization program.

3. Insurance rates would be reduced.

Now nobody can argue with these points. All of them are worthwhile. Anybody who says he doesn't want to see taxes and insurance rates lowered is obviously out of his mind, and increased coordination which would lead to better, cheaper fire protection would be an obvious advantage.

But let's look at the other side of the coin—the "black" side.

AN INCREASED load would be placed on the board of supervisors, because the county district would be operated by an 11 man board, five members of which would be the elected board of supervisors.

Now the board of supervisors has plenty to do. Saddling this group with the active management of a county-wide fire district would be asking a lot . . . at least under the present circumstances.

If our supervisors were paid more and it were a mandatory full-time job, it might be a different matter.

THERE WOULD BE a certain amount of loss of local control. At present at least the fire commissioners live in the area they represent (for the most part).

Local control is not to be smirked at. Even though your board of members may be appointed by the board of supervisors, at least they are "around town" and you can see them to gripe to from time to time.

And, unfortunately, there is always the possibility of "empire building." This is a natural counterpart in the formation of a large district, but it is not to be completely ignored.

SO THERE YOU have it . . . pros and cons. How do you make a decision? We are for reduced taxes and are for streamlining county government, but at what price?

Responsibility Lies With Parents, too...

Discipline is a funny thing. It is something that has to be applied consistently or it loses its meaning—and most of its effectiveness.

Manners are like this, too. We must learn, as children, to practice them and then eventually they become second nature and we are said to "have good manners."

All of this must be very confusing to children, especially the younger ones, because it is confusing to adults, and we are supposed to be able to understand.

AND WHAT HAPPENS when discipline is lacking, or is inconsistent? Somebody gets into trouble, and that "somebody" is usually a youngster, because he has not yet learned what he can or cannot get away with.

This may cause minor troubles around the house, but then comes the day when that youngster must go to school, and a whole new world opens up.

Social pressures increase, and most children learn very quickly what is and is not acceptable. Most children do not cause trouble, or if they do, it is the kind of trouble which we were all guilty when we were youngsters.

But attitudes on discipline vary from home to home, and sometimes within a given home, and they vary with teachers, and school districts, and with individuals.

SOME PARENTS, unfortunately, tend to bask in the freedom that school provides—a built-in baby sitting service.

Other parents are overly protective and cannot tolerate the slighted indications that any disciplinary measures have been applied to "my little Johnny."

So, eventually, something happens—it has happened in every one of our schools and each district, and will continue to happen because people are people.

And after each incident a worried or frantic group of parents descends upon the school principal or the board of trustees and demands that a schedule of disciplinary measures be worked out.

Some parents think the schools do not have a right to apply measures that would not be used at home.

Others think the schools are too lax in their disciplinary procedures.

So we have a dilemma.

NOW WE ARE CERTAINLY not authorities on this subject, but we have listened to the plaintive wailings of school officials and teachers, and the angry and confused comments of parents.

It appears that there is one point that should be made—an important one—that is too often overlooked.

And that is that parents are basically responsible for their children's actions, whether the children are at home or away.

If you have given your child a solid foundation upon which to build an understanding of what is anti-social and what is not, chances are he will behave like a human being even when you are not standing over him with a club.

IF YOU TEACH your children good manners, you won't have to worry about them when they start eating out, or visiting friends' homes.

So next time you hear talk about the discipline in the schools, remember that the schools have tremendous problems—discipline is harder to enforce with 40 children in one room than it is with two in a whole house.

And remember where the primary responsibility lies—with the parents.

There is no need to test a disciplinary procedure unless someone gets out of line.

And rules for behavior can be taught at a very early age.

The Race for Inner Space

By JACK SEYMOUR

I can do anything better than you can,
I can do anything better than you.
I can do anything faster than you can
I can do anything faster than you.

The above lyrics are from a tune written by Irving Berlin for his musical comedy, "Annie Get Your Gun."

Everybody, it seems, is trying to do everything better and faster than the Russians.

School boards are asking for Federal funds to expand their science and mathematics programs.

Colleges are building atom-smashers, guided missile centers, space development laboratories, rocket research buildings and radiation outposts.

Even on the elementary school level we have seen evidence of accelerated classes in math and science.

All this feverish activity has to do with the so-called "race" with the technological brains of the Soviet Union.

The other day we observed an instance of a local school board being "shocked" at the test scores of summer school students. On the surface, it appeared that the students learned less by going to summer sessions than if they'd not gone at all.

Here we may find a case of the machine conquering the man. To paraphrase an old bromide, test scores do not a genius make.

But we are in danger of attaching too much importance to test scores, cyclotrons and the physical equipment to make our laboratories slick, gleaming, efficient and terribly dull.

We may be producing built-in nervous breakdowns in children by demanding that they excel in the scientific fields.

It is hardly a victorious battle if we produce 100,000 engineers, physicists, chemists and technicians compared with a smaller number of Russian counterparts if in doing so we create a society as described in "Brave New World" or "1984."

The sad trend in American business is to place the Organization Man at the highest level of the so-called "new order" of industrial society.

Great company cities have been built, housing the finest scientific brains. These projects are getting closer and closer to an "ideal" way of life, with everything in one place and Big Brother (in the form of the company) watching everyone.

Perhaps the time has come for educators and parents to take a long, hard look at this "race" on the local level.

While trophies, plaques and scrolls are being handed out to every bright science student, what is happening to the strange, enchanted children?

What of the girl who writes poetry?

The boy who paints?

The children who spend hours in enraptured wonderment over a butterfly's flight?

The child who thrills to Mozart instead of missiles, prefers Bach over bombs?

Is outer space more important than inner space?

We Like It Here...

There Are Smiles That Make You Spend More..

By MARIE MONAHAN

THIS, being Friday, we are busy with the grocery list. The things we need to replenish the larder.

Down we trip for the Munchies & the mayonnaise, a few little items we're short on.

To the tune of Music by Muzak, the local gossip & the beaming smiles of the grocery boys. It gives we ladies a lift. While the small change comes tumbling down & another Twenty bites the cashbox.

By the time we've picked out mushrooms, filled a bag with green peas, tested the tomatoes with a little sqush, the best intended plans of modest menus & budgets go to pot.

Well, not OUR Pot. The little penny-on-the-dollar pot that adds up to mighty profits for the vendors of our vittles.

MAYBE this is why Ze Certain Smile. It ees so important, eh Cherie?

Imagine how unpleasant it would be if we harassed & tired housewives struggled through the drudgery of filling the carts sans music & then had the clerk groan, growl & scowl at us. We'd resent blowing that Twenty. Plenty!

We might even NEVER come back. And our Psyche would be saddened. Sadder.

BUT one reason we like it here, we drag into the market & soon we're doing a foxtrot in the aisles, waltzing out way to the Wheaties.

The Clerks are winking, Spring is blinking, the asparagus are out & corn is just around the corner.

The clerks keep smiling & suddenly Sirloin looks like a fair buy. Presto! Our entire mood has changed. We're planning to pretty up for dinner. Out of the denim & maybe once over lightly with the faithful Max Factor & the new Go-Go Pink.

THERE is sound psychology behind that smile, lurking in the gay little greeting from the grocery clerk. Especially when he totes up the tab.

It's all part of The Plan. That ready smile & that cherry repartee ever handy up a white starched sleeve. He makes you feel heady, Hedy. Giddy & Gay!

WHATEVER the reasons behind that certain smile, you can be sure of one.

It's that Penny-on-the-Dollar profit that counts. EVERY customer, says the boss.

Keep Smiling! The ladies, they love it!

Does He Bite? We Can Only Wonder . . .

By JOYCE BARNUM

"Does he bite?"

Most dog owners have had this query put to them frequently, whether the dog in question is of the variety that charges, barks, jumps around wildly or sits quietly meditating upon his own doggy problems.

Answers to the nervous questioner can vary from a firm, reassuring, "No, of course not," to an unsettling, "I don't really know. I've never SEEN him bite anybody."

Depending upon the answer received to the query and upon his temperament, the questioner then sits back relaxed and calm or perches apprehensively on the edge of a chair with one watchful eye upon the family canine.

BUT TO PROVE a point—do you believe everything you hear—or read?

It's hard to nowadays.

For example Russia's Khrushchev each day barks out new threats concerning the Berlin situation which cause nervous westerners to ask, "Will he bite?" No one can give too reassuring an answer. "He hasn't yet," is about the best you can get.

Then there's the by-now routine question asked of all candidates for governor of our state. "Will you be a presidential candidate?"

The standard—and non-partisan—reply to this one is, "I'm running for governor right now." Loosely translated this means, "Yes. I'll bite if I get a chance."

SO IN THIS STRANGE world of double talk it's been very refreshing to find a man elected to office who promptly sets about carrying out his campaign promises.

We refer to our new district attorney, John Nejedly, who requested—and received—preparation of legislation banning a private practice for D.A.'s here.

Nejedly had promised to do this if elected. His requested bill is now awaiting state legislative action.

His action reassures us to the point where we can view activities in the D.A.'s office, no longer perched nervously on the edges of our chairs, but leaning back, calmly—reassured and relaxed.

Letters to The Editor

The Eastern Contra Costa Fire District, Moraga and I have been the target of criticism by Supervisor Mel Nielsen and Mr. Silverman of the Sun papers.

The commissioners of the Eastern Contra Costa Fire District were given the job of protecting this district 13 years ago by the Board of Supervisors. Some areas of the district, such as Moraga, have grown; some remain as rural as they were.

I THINK WE have kept pace in all parts of the district. Our own people are not complaining. Criticism of joint use of the telephone in different parts of the district seems to be an issue, but this was a business arrangement advantageous to the district taxpayers, as were the services of Mrs. Gill and my sons.

Remember, we live in an area of a half-million acres with but 200 people who live far apart. We have to do things that would not be done in populated areas.

Mr. Nielsen and Mr. Silverman have gone out of their way to discredit the Eastern fire district and its Moraga section, thinking this would swing the people into their way of thinking along lines of bringing more fire districts under county control.

Why didn't they take first steps first and get the Lafayette Fire District to come under the supervisors? Why didnt Mr. Nielsen and Mr. Silverman first sit down with the people of Moraga, Orinda and Lafayette before trying to jam this down their throats?

I WOULD BE glad to debate the issue with Mr. Nielsen and Mr. Silverman before the people of Moraga at any time.

Mr. Silverman will probably continue to embarrass me before the Grand Jury and the people, and Mr. Nielsen will probably give me little consideration—but remember, I have been doing this job for the supervisors without pay for 13 years, and I have enjoyed working with the people in and out of the district.

But I don't think the Gill family should be subjected to this kind of abuse, and probably as soon as things can be arranged, someone else will have to carry on.

GEROULD GILL.

BLOODY ROAD

Dear Editor:

I saw another accident on the bloody approaches to the Broadway Tunnel the other night. It wasn't the first accident I've seen there, nor probably not the last, but it made me a little sick.

Not half as sick as I felt though, after reading an old edition of your paper while waiting for our efficient police to clear away the broken bodies.

The problem of blood being spilled on the Tunnel approaches is basically an engineering problem. However, the efforts of our Highway Department in building interim dividing strips and ultimate divided highways seem to be diverted to placating the complaints of our local politicians and our local editor about landscaping, or providing additional exit ramps for the benefit of local businessmen, etc.

Landscaping, and even business, didn't seem very important while they were loading those broken bodies into the ambulance. I even had a little trouble sleeping that night, but, of course, I couldn't lull myself to sleep counting the votes of the women's clubs or the advertising revenues from the downtown merchants.

Sure, this is a bitter letter, but someone has to stand up and be counted. Unfortunately, platitudes, or safety slogans, or bitter letters aren't going to get safe approaches to that tunnel built—but the determined efforts of community-minded journalists and legislators could. Won't you try?

J. C. KASPAR

(We agree with Mr. Kaspar that the situation on both ends of the Brodway Tunnel is poor, to say the least. The Sun has been beating the drums for years for immediate construction of a second low-level tunnel . . . and we, along with several active community groups, have pushed for freeway construction for our area, too!—Ed.)

What Shall We Do About Quacks? Here's One Idea

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

How many of your friends or acquaintances have died of cancer in the past five years? To this number, add the names of famous people whose deaths you've read about in the newspapers. The list would be substantial.

Some people have died needlessly. With periodic examinations, education and proper treatment, the lives of many could have been saved. However, the purpose of this week's column is not cancer education. Let's leave that to your doctor, the American Cancer Society and stories we carry from time to time.

The quacks go to work

Today let's consider one of the side tragedies of cancer and what can be done about it. I'm referring to cancer quacks. In the last session of the California legislature a bill to control these quacks was killed because of politics and jealousies—believe it or not!

The current legislature is considering another one—Senate Bill 194. The Senate Public Health and Safety Committee approved the bill earlier this month. But this is only one step; it must clear the entire Senate, as well as the assembly.

At this point, let me quote Major General John Deane, president of the California Division of the American Cancer Society. This is his statement to the Senate committee and explains the unbelievable quack situation:

Many died needlessly

"Cancer killed more than 20,000 Californians last year. Statistics indicate that with present medical knowledge it would have been possible to save the lives of approximately 5,000 of these patients if only their treatment could have been started in time.

"The so-called cancer quacks pretend to help cancer victims when in fact they have no ability to do so. Thus they delay the start of effective treatment against the disease. They divert the patient from adequate medical care, and in so doing deprive him of all chances of being cured.

"Existing laws give the public a false sense of security. [illegible] cancer quackery in this state. Some of the methods and [illegible] tive or fraudulent as much as 35 years ago, and our people continue to be offered treatment with pills and machines long ago banned from interstate shipment because they are of no value.

"The California Division of the American Cancer Society . . . believes that this legislation is desperately needed. Senate Bill 194 provides an effective mechanism for correcting the many abuses which under present law cannot be stopped—abuses which result directly in the loss of human life.

A thriving business

"In the Society's Branch offices, our staff and volunteers frequently come face to face with the misery that quackery creates. We know from frequent exposure that quackery is thriving in this state.

"There are some who smile at a quack's ability to stimulate false fears in persons who are perfectly well, so that he can treat them at a profit for diseases they never had. There are others who condone the raising of false hopes in the loved ones of those beyond all medical help, even though profit is the motive again. We consider such tricks of quackery as against the public interest. But they are minor when compared to the tragic shortening of human life that results from delaying until too late the kind of treatment that could restore a patient to good health."

In conclusion, General Deane declares the bill will provide California for the first time with adequate protection against a serious menace.

What is Senate Bill 194

What does the bill entail?

Here is a brief run down:

The bill establishes a Cancer Advisory Council within the State Department of Public Health, composed of nine physicians and surgeons and three laymen. The Council is empowered to investigate and test any drug, medicine, compound or device used for the diagnosis or treatment of cancer.

Upon affirmative vote of at least nine members of the Council, at least one of whom shall not be a physician, the Council may make a written finding of fact that the drug, device or compound is either harmful or of no value. After a public hearing, the Council may direct that the practitioner cease and desist the use of the drug.

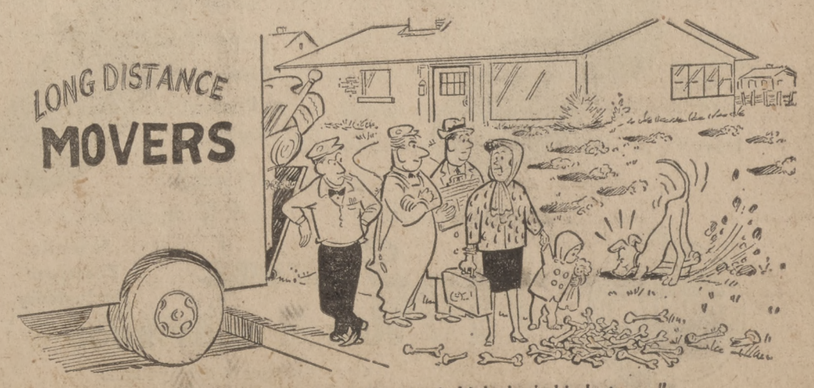

If the person or association persists in using the objectionable product, a restaining order can be obtained from the Superior Court.

Other provisions:

The bill has other provisions, such as penalties, publication of facts, additions to the Business and Professions Code, etc.

It is possible that this bill could be killed, as it was two years ago. If you feel strongly about it, write your two legislators at the state capital, Sacramento—Senator George Miller Jr. and Assemblyman Jerome Waldie.

A Bit of Eire Was There At Orinda Country Club

By MARIE MONAHAN

Killarney came to the Orinda Country Club Saturday night. And by the looks of the place, fresh and pretty as a pot of shamrocks, the Leprechauns may have had a hand in bringing it there.

The St. Patrick's decor was intricately and ingeniously assembled turning the main ballroom into a miniature Emerald Isle. Thousands of green shamrocks festooned the walls and the white lacework lanterns suspended gracefully from the ceiling.

Jimmy Diamond's orchestra was boxed in with bands of green and white paper, claypipe and harp cutouts. A mural of the lucky leaves served to show off a Shamrock tree with green lights a-twinkle on its boughs.

AMONG EARLY COMERS, a trio of men toasting to St. Pat, were Don Hucke, Rolph Ong and Charlie Thomson of Lafayette. Their spouses, armed with a good supply of green satin ribbon collared the arriving male guests and bestowed on them, bow ties. Here, Marie Thomson, recruiting more reservations for Wednesday's bridge lunch, and social chairman Peggy Ong and her assistant "Steve" Hucke, both in vivid Colleen-green frocks with matching sandals.

The party got off to a tardy start, a large part of the guests streaming in simultaneously after nine from the many parties hosted beforehand.

The Wellington Rays, the Oliver Fisks and the Bert Hotchkisses coming in together after early potables at the latter's Orinda menage.

The Dick Bliesners in search of their set. Ina, with a silver pleated fan comb and camellias tucked in her chic chignon, looking very Spanish in a black silk sheath shouldering a scarlet satin stole.

The Jim Reads, who joined the Bliesners at a large table for pre-prandials with the Arthur Lundblads, William Scatenas and Ernest Abbes, were well-tanned and telling of their recent Sugar Bowl holiday. Friends inquiring, too, about the couple's sons who are schooling in Switzerland.

Another foursome, the Tom Connollys and the Colin Campbells joining this group for dinner.

The hearty Irish spirit permeating the party, the men quick to don their Donegal-green and gold high hats, the distaff side having their choice of green cello bonnets or wearing a green carnation from the table bouquets.

Sleepy Hollow neighbors at a long table together were the Nels Hambergs, the Jack Reillys, George Merriams and the Ed Bergens. Betty's dress one of the prettiest in Kelly green with a shirred chiffon bodice.

Joining the Charles Thomsons for the prime dinner (dessert was a Shamrock-shaped mint ice) were their Lafayette neighbors, Louis and Dottie Chartier and the Dick Kents.

Also at the no-host table were the Francis Morins over from their Alhambra Valley ranch and Jim and Phoebe Allen of Orinda. The Charles Grants of Lafayette requesting a samba.

Changing partners for a ballroom "jig" were the Don Dotens (Pat's pique jacket and dress of heather hues in a flower print), Jim and Val McCone, the brothers Bonyngton, Alan with his wife Dorothy and Brian with his wife Ruth. The latter lady, ravishing in red chiffon, awaits a seventh or eighth date with the stork!

And a shure sign they were tippin' their hats last Tuesday, the seventeenth—Not a soul went home without his Irish topper.

WITH BEST WISHES for a happy marriage—the Rev. James C. Upshaw gives a few words of advice to the new Mr. and Janet is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Heltman of Mrs. Gary Franklin Tibbetts (Janet Louis Heltman). The couple were recently married in Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church. Walnut Creek and Gary is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Schupp and Ben Tibbetts.

The tickets for the occasion are being handled by Mrs. L. Conway Smith and the patio menu for the afternoon is planned by Mrs. Morris Jeppson.

The table prizes and home Habachi prizes all fit into the summer fun theme, as well as the beautiful electric rotisserie which will be won by one of the lucky 300 guests.

All proceeds from this event will go to the Children's Home Society, California's largest private adoption agency.

Pandora members spend much of their time throughout the year working with the children in the Clinic of the new Home, now located on Telegraph Avenue in Oakland.

Maitre D' Joins Orinda Willows Staff

M. A. Dolio is now sole owner of the Orinda Willows. He's wasted no time in lining up one of the finest maitre d's anywhere. Kurt Stein, new maitre d', who was formerly with the Brown Derby in Los Angeles, says he will specialize in continental cuisine, relying on his many years experience of serving foods for discriminating diners. "We will be serving an exquisite Caesar Salad as a specialty," Maitre D' Stein says.

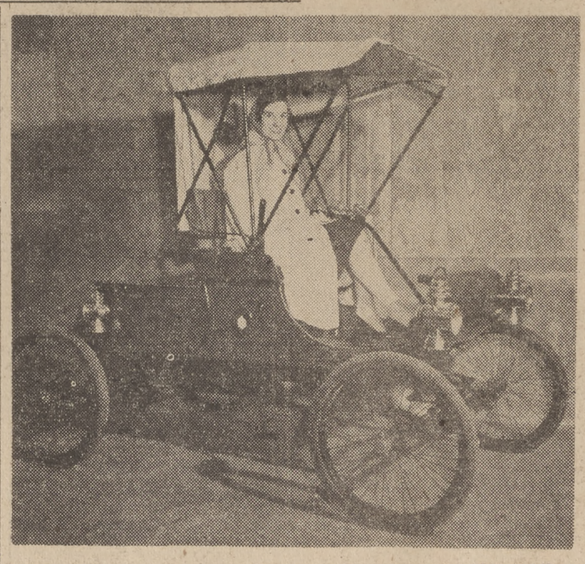

Orinda Willows is already noted for its fine dinner atmosphere and good music. The dinner house caters to banquets and parties. Open Wednesday noon for luncheons, the Willows is closed on Mondays. The cocktail hour is daily from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. with hot hors d'oeuvres served.

TED LITTLE, owner of the Kopper Kettle in Orinda at the Crossroads is spending his free time during the warm spring days with his 19-foot Century speedboat. Ted whizzed from Antioch to the Golden Gate last Sunday in his trim craft.

Cook Marian Parker at the Kopper Kettle is whipping up some terrific menus for patrons, enabling Ted to get away more often. Marian is presiding over the kitchen again after a short illness. She has earned a reputation as an excellent cook at the Blacksheep in Berkeley and previously at the Kopper Kettle.

NICK AND TINA Pagnini are still serving their "mushroom" martini and offering a big, 16-oz. steak and salad for only $1.85 at their Escobar Street restaurant in Martinez.

SAN FRANCISCO Bay Area Rapid Transit District board of 16 directors, members of its staff and a group of Contra Costa officials and leaders selected Paul's of Martinez for the district's first luncheon meeting outside its San Francisco headquarters last Thursday, with 82 in attendance. The luncheon, arranged by the development association, preceded a meeting in the county administration building, which was covered by the five metropolitan newspapers.

County Farmers Find New Lands; Picture is Bright

Although each year, new homes, highways and buildings are taking more and more Contra Costa County real estate, the county farmer is far from being a vanishing breed.

Their crops are more valuable than ever, and are shipped to all parts of the United States.

The use of better fertilizers, extended irrigation and the latest farming methods have made new lands usable, and so production and quality is up, according to County Agriculture Commissioner Art Seeley.

HE SAID THAT the increase in population in this area, while taking land which used to be farmed, also brought "a hungry mass market right next door."

Crux of the improving situation is the growth in production of truck or "row" crops, such as sweet corn, lettuce, tomatoes, onions, and cabbage.

Those crops and asparagus have raised the truck farming income to more than $6 millions each year, said Seeley.

The "new" lands, which in earlier years were considered "less desirable", are being turned into producing lands by irrigation. Lettuce has become a basic crop, where in past years, it was considered a Salinas Valley specialty.

THE INCREASE in the truck farming income has compensated for the loss in overall farm income due to a decline in pear, walnut and other orchard products, and the overall income is about $25 millions per year.

Orchard and vineyard production, including almonds, apricots, peaches, cherries, grapes, plums and prunes, range from $8 millions to $10 millions per year—nursery production is about $1 million; livestock and poultry about $5 millions, and field crops about $2 millions.

More than half of the county's land area of 469,000 acres is being farmed today, and some 100,000 acres are planted in tilled crops, which total about 1000 more than in 1939.

As tilled land goes into other uses, pasture land is converted by modern methods to productive land.

PAUL'S was also the site Saturday night for a gay dinner party of the Villagers, of Walnut Creek, with about 40 in attendance. Several other smaller parties from the central part of the county also dined and danced at Paul's.

Mental Retarded Workshop Set

Dr. Edgar A. Doll of Bellingham, Wash., national authority on mental retardation, will be the chief speaker at the third annual Contra Cosa County workshop on menal retardation April 10-11 in Martinez.

Dr. Doll will speak at a public meeting April 10 at 8 p.m. at the Martinez Junior High School auditorium, announced Harlan H. Lewis, co-ordinator of special education, Contra Costa County schools. Lewis is chairman of the workshop planning committee.

Bigger Park Is Goal of County Council

The Contra Costa County Park and Recreation Council has voted to urge the enlargement of Mt. Diablo State Park with funds already appropriated by the state legislature.

North Peak was named particularly desirable for prompt purchase at a recent meeting of the council's board of directors.

The County Park Commission has complied with a request from William Drake, president of the council, and agreed to recommend to the Board of Supervisors that it send an official county request to the state for the acquisition of the land.

In 1956, some $200,000 was set aside by the state legislature for buying land to expand the park, and the staff of the Division of Beaches and Parks determined the most appropriate areas.

Little Dog Returned by Ad in Sun

"Patches", a little brown dog with a patch over his eye, was returned to Genie Devries of 1234 Monument Boulevard, Concord, after she anxiously placed a classified ad in The Sun.

She placed only one ad, and it did the job. She told The Sun, "I was most delighted."

C. L. Wiersema of 135 Montanya Court, Walnut Creek, sold his maltese terrier with just one Sun classified ad.

DUE TO A change in the classified "codes", E. R. MacDougall's ad to sell a gas range went into the wrong section, but it brought in plenty of calls anyway, and was sold.

And George Talbot of 25 Moraga Via, Orinda, had no trouble selling his chair, a bed, spring, mattress, desk, lamp, with a single Sun classified.

To take advantage of "rerun" rates you can place your ad for two weeks or "indefinite," and cancel it when you get results.

A two-week run means that the ad will run in the Sun Shopping News on Wednesday, the Walnut Creek Sun, Lafayette Sun, Orinda Sun and Pleasant Hill Sun on Friday, and the new Sun Shopping News on Sunday, and the same complete coverage is repeated for the second week, all for $3.80.

YOU CAN cancel after the subscription papers are distributed by calling on Friday by 4:30 p.m., or after the Sunday Sun Shopping News is distributed by calling on Monday by 4:30 p.m. You will be charged only for the classified ads which ran.

Place your ad with The Sun by phone, today. Call YE 4-5000, AT 4-4444 or CL 4-4343.

Diamond Arch Party Honors Newest Members

Newest members of the Herrick Hospital Guild Arch of Diamonds were honored at the group's annual get-together — a cocktail party Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wilson, 52 Highland Boulevard, Berkeley.

Mrs. Robert Adamson.

Diamond membership chairman Mrs. Richard Turk announces that new members officially greeted at the affair were Mrs. A. K. Barker; Mrs. Percy Betts; Mrs. Frank Patrum (Louise Patrum, M.D.); Mrs. Philip Reynolds, Orinda; Mrs. H. B. Salmon, Richmond and Mrs. U. T. Wasserman.

Other east of tunnel members of Diamond Arch are Mrs. Peyton Jacob Jr., of Orinda and Mrs. Jack Romascan of Lafayette.

Residents May Take Vocational Nurse Course

Vocaitonal nursing, a one-year study at Diablo Valley College for women between the ages of 18 and 55 to prepare for state licensing examinations, will be offered again this fall, George Madison, dean of instruction, said today.

Although the work will not start until September 3, applications are being received now for places in the class which is limited to 20 for good instructional procedure.

Blanks may be obtained by calling in person at the college or by telephoning and asking for the Student Personnel Office.

PROSPECTIVE vocational nurses must have completed the tenth grade in high school or its equivalent, and be able to pass a physical examinational for fitness. Tests for aptitude and interest are required.

Two or three testing sessions will be held in April and May, the dates to be announced soon.

On the basis of testing scores and the ability to meet the other requirements, candidates' applications are forwarded to a review committee.

An interview with college counselors and the instructor, Mrs. Susanne Malone, R.N., is arranged. Thereafter candidates are notified whether or not they have qualified for the course.

THERE IS NO tuition. Each student purchases her own uniforms, white shoes and hose, a watch with a sweephand, textbooks, notebooks, and incidentals.

The first three months are spent in the classroom 30 hours a week. For the rest of the course, students spend 40 hours a week in cooperating hospitals, obtaining practical experience under the supervision of registered nurses and doctors.

At the end of one year, students should be able to pass the state licensing examination to become L.V.N.'s, Licensed Vocational Nurses. The record of prior Diablo Valley College students who have taken these tests has been exceptionally high.

Opportunities for employment are good, Madison said. Jobs are available in hospitals, physicians' offices, health agencies and in private homes in cases involving the aged, mothers and their new babies, and certain chronic and convalescent cases.

Now to Build A Volcano? It's in Recipe

Not every job calls for building a volcano that will erupt.

But it is part of the job of Mrs. Doris Foley as art consultant on the staff of the county superintendent of schools.

And the directions for making a volcano are included in a booklet she has written, "Art Recipes," one of a series of 16 bulletins to help teachers avoid stereotypes in teaching art and to use art to illustrate other studies, science for one, in which the erupting volcano figures.

"ART AS TAUGHT in the Bay Area is a process of encouraging the child to create. Rather than giving him something to copy, we give him ideas and materials and encourage him to express himself," she says.

A surprising variety of materials finds its way into the classroom. Macaroni, beans and corn become a new "dish"—a pleasing mosaic—when glued on paper by a child absorbed in using familiar things to make something new and different and wholly his own.

Gadget printing similarly brings into play an array of familiar items for unfamiliar use—forks, spools, soda straws, paper clips, etc.—to stamp designs in making decorative paper for holiday use.

Mrs. Foley demonstrates the use of these and other media at 30 to 40 annual workshops for teachers throughout the county.

PAPER FOLDING to make paper sculpture is one of her favorite means of expression. So successfully did she communicate her enthusiasm to one small girl that the child called her Mrs. "Foldey."

Other media the consultant demonstrates are clay, ceramic, weaving, chalk, crayon, water color, powdered tempera, finger paint and liquid starch. With these the children draw or paint, make mosaics, mobiles or murals.

Or, they construct animals or dioramas—whatever comes into their heads or suits their classroom study purposes.

To name a few of Mrs. Foley's other numerous duties: She meets with superintendents, principals and parents, as well as teachers, when art education is under discussion.

SHE HELPS introduce new teachers to the Bay Area's kind of art education. She edits a newsletter, "Art Antics," to keep art teachers informed on techniques, materials and exhibits.

Mrs. Foley is currently engaged in revising the bulletin, "Classroom Environment," conveying ideas on how to make classrooms attractive to children and minimize the daily wear and tear of teacher-pupil relations.

Other bulletins written and illustrated by Mrs. Foley deal with ideas for fresh and creative ways to interpret the holidays during the school year, "Indian Designs and Symbols," the use of bulletin boards in the classroom, poster making, oil painting and water color.

Art Pageant Prepares Inclusive Program

The Pageant of Arts Association, co-sponsored by the City o Walnut Creek and the Walnut Creek Area Chamber of Commerce, will hold its fourth annual Pageant May 28 to 31.

Four years ago the dream of a small group who formed the nucleus of what is now the "Pageant of Arts" Association, was to have all cultural groups, organizations, and individuals, participate in one large art exhibition — that dream will be realized with this years Pageant.

This group has as its ultimate goal the stimulation of community interest in building an Art and Workshop Center worthy of an area that ranks high is esthetic pursuits. Our growing community has more people enrolled in art classes, and practicing both on the amateur and professional level, than any other area in the west.

FOLLOWING LAST year's Pageant, it was unanimously decided that the Pageant of Arts was to be a "looked-for" event each year, that officers should be elected and by-laws drawn up for a permanent Pageant of Arts organization. Mary Kwait was appointed the chairman of a nominating committee and requested to present a slate of candidates for the various offices.

At the November meeting the following were elected to form an executive committee: Honorary chairman, Mayor William von Tagen: active chairman, Forrest Engelhart; coordinator, Evadne Wenker; corresponding secretary, Katie Hessler; treasurer, Louis Roseman; ways and means, Mary Kwait; resource, Mildred Carlock; publicity, Joane Backland.

Due to her mother's illness, Mrs. Backland was called to Seattle and requested that she be relieved of her position, at a recent meeting of the committee Mrs. William J. Marshall was named public relations chairman.

At the present time nine art categories have been listed and Fund Raising Chairman Mary Kwait hopes to have $1000 to be awarded in prizes.

Category 1 — Familiar Scene. $100 prize will be offered by the Contra Costa County Real Estate Board; $50 first prize, $30 second prize, $20 third for best paintings (in any medium) of any familiar scene located in the area comprised of Orinda, Moraga, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Alamo, Danville and San Ramon.

CATEGORY 2 OIL, No. 3 watercolor—4 graphic arts (prints, pastels, black and white) 5 sculpture, 6 mosiacs, 7 ceramics, 8 weaving and 9 jewelry.

Entry blanks for the above will be available during the first week in April. Category 10 photography, 11 flower arrangements. Special entry blanks will be furnished for these two categories upon request to the Pageant of Arts Headquarters, 1445 Civic Drive, Walnut Creek.

Along with the Fine Art Exhibit there will be various demonstrations by the "Artists At Work" section. Demonstrations in such unusual mediums as glass blowing, plastics and bookbinding will be offered.

Don't be Over-Attentive To State's Native Plants

BY THE GARDENER

You can say it and say it again, but some people just won't believe: California natives are not for the over-zealous gardener.

ASK A MEMBER of the California Association of Nurserymen. He'll probably tell you that gardeners turn up every year who complain about a favorite Wild Lilac or an established Fremontia that has up and died.

A bit of investigation usually shows both plants were in the line of water planted at the edge of a lawn or near azaleas and other water lovers. They were swamped with attention.

SO LET'S reiterate the basic rule: Natives are for you if you throw the normal rule book away.

Don't be over attentive with either water or food and, most important of all, be extra sure that drainage is perfect.

Do this and you'll get a lot of mileage from native plants. Wild Lilac can fill many needs from glossy ground covers that creep along a bank to small trees, 25 and 30 feet high.

Fremontia can parlay its revulsion for water into a striking dry-hillside shrub with rust colored foliage and rich yellow blooms.

BUSH ANEMONE makes an ideal boundary planting, displaying rich green leaves and good-sized white flowers with very prominent yellow stamens showing.

The bright yellow of Bush Poppy or the big buff heads of Santa Cruz Island Buckwheat are wonderful space fillers on dry, otherwise unfriendly hillsides. Matilija Poppy rewards with huge (up to five-inch) blooms of white, centered with yellow stamens.

And California Christmas Berry needs no introduction to the thousands of Californians who cut it for holiday color each year.

THESE and others are definitely for the lazy gardener or for large waste spaces. They are not to be over watered. If they are, few will survive for long.

Once Again It's Time to Plant Your Dahlias

Here are chores in the garden for this week:

1. You still have time to plant bare root roses and fruit trees. They are cheaper now than when they are growing in containers.

2. If your berries ripened unevenly last year they could have Himalayan Blackberry mites. This can be controlled by spraying now.

3. Dwarf Oranges and Lemons are ideal for small gardens. They also make exceptional tubbed plants.

4. The camellia blooming season is in full swing. Blooming time is a good planting time.

5. Once again it is Dahlia planting time.

Governor Signs 65 MPH Limit

Governor Edmund G. Brown has signed into law A.B. 27, which fixes a firm 65 mile per hour speed limit on California highways.

The bill, by Assemblyman Walter Dahl, Piedmont Republican, becomes effective January 1, 1960.

It will then replace the present law under which there is no fixed maximum speed. The prima facie speed limit is now 55 miles per hour but the law permits motorists to go as much faster as they can demonstrate conditions warrant.

The new law also retains the prima facie limit below the maximum, and permits local and state authorities to fix lower speed limits after engineering and traffic surveys.

Robert McCarthy, director of the Department of Motor Vehicles and coordinator of Brown's "get tough" traffic safety program, was present for the signing.

He told Brown that surveys conducted by the Division of Highways indicate that 85 per cent of motorists now travel under 65 miles per hour on state highways.

"It's the 15 per cent I'm concerned about," the governor said. "They'll have to slow down to the same speed as the rest of us. I am anxious that this law be given aggressive enforcement just as soon as it goes into effect."

The bill passed the assembly 58 to 16 and won senate approval by a vote of 28 to 6.

Free Polio Shots Offered Next Week

"Two out of every five cases of crippling polio occur among adults," Dr. H. L. Blum, county health officer, said when announcing the next Health Department Immunization Clinic for the Walnut Creek area.

"This is why it is as important for our adults to be protected with Salk vaccine as it is for our children."

Dr. Blum pointed out that immunizations are best obtained from one source of medical care—your private physician. However, he added, Health Department Immunization Clinics are held for those who have difficulty in obtaining these services privately.

The County Health Department's immunization for the Walnut Creek area will be held at the Veterans' Hall, 1250 Locust Street, from 2 to 4:45 p.m. on Wednesday.

In addition to polio vaccinations, immunizations for diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus and smallpox are available.

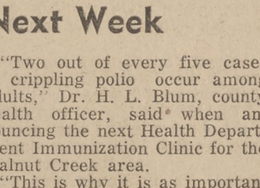

Those 13 years of age and under must be accompanied by a parent or guardian.

Those 14 to 21 must have a Health Department consent form signed by their parent or guardian. Adults may receive polio, diphtheria, tetanus and smallpox immunizations.

500-Voice Choir Will Be Sunrise Service Feature

Plans have been completed for the annual Easter Sunrise Service at Mountain View Cemetery to be held this year on March 29, according to Robert A. Leet, chairman of the planning committee.

This special event, now in its twelfth consecutive year, will again be held beneath the 60-foot redwood cross on the crown of hills that form the background of Mountain View.

It will feature prominent soloists and a 500-voice choir under the direction of John Unruh. A special Easter sermon will be given by Dr. Stuart L. Anderson, president of Berkeley's Pacific School of Religion.

More than 8,000 persons are expected to attend on Easter morning, March 29, starting at 6:15 a.m.

If heavy rain precludes holding hillside services, provisions have been made to conduct the entire program inside of the large Mausoleum building. The radio broadcast will be made from either site.

The traditional event is conducted annually in cooperation with the Oakland Council of Churches, under whose auspices the program is prepared and presented according to members of the committee planning the service: Robert A. Leet, chairman, Frank Edoff and Thad B. McCarty.

Lion Killed On Mt. Diablo Slopes

A 120-pound female mountain lion was killed on the north slopes of Mt. Diablo on March 5 by Mike Morgan, the county's predatory animal control hunter.

Morgan said he tracked the lions for three or four days before his dog, "Princess," was able to trace it.

The lion had killed a yearling deer and was a threat to livestock in the area.

Agricultural Commissioner A. L. Seeley said that every two to five years a mountain lion turns up in the county.

It appears that they come from outside the county, since mountain lions are able to cover large distances, he said.

The lion just killed was seen by a local resident, who informed authorities.

'New League or Out Cried'

Seven Schools Urge New Prep League Formation

Unless the California Interscholastic Federation OK's admittance of seven central county schools into a separate league—they'll pull out of the entire organization.

This was the stand that principals took Monday night when they presented the idea to the Acalanes High School District Board of Trustees.

SPEAKING for the group was Stanley Walgren, Acalanes school principal.

Walgren said, "If the North Coast Section of CIF doesn't approve our request we are firm in our belief that we should go independent."

William Lee, board president, said, "We're behind you — the board is with you."

School coaches are all in agreement with the principals' decision, Walgren observed.

PRINCIPALS OF seven schools, Acalanes, Alhambra, Del Valle, Las Lomas, Miramonte, Piedmont and San Ramon today met for the purpose of establishing a new athletic league as of July, 1960.

A letter was sent to Hi Jennings, Secretary of North Coast Section of the California Interscholastic Federation requesting admission as a separate league.

Establishment of a new league results from the present and future increase in the number of schools in the existing Diablo Valley Athletic League, a recognition of the fact that the new realignment of DVAL can only be temporary, and the need for reducing travel distance among competing schools, Walgren commented.

THE PRINCIPALS action followed closely upon the decision of the DVAL board of governors to set up two 10-team divisions in 1960 to replace the present three division alignment.

The board voted to include Acalanes, Alhambra, Antioch, Clayton Valley, Las Lomas, Livermore, Mt. Diablo (Concord), Pacifica (West Pittsburg), Pittsburg and Pleasant Hill high schools in one division.

In the second division would be Albany, Amador (Pleasanton), John Swett (Crockett), Liberty (Brentwood), Miramonte, Piedmont and San Ramon, plus three new schools, Del Valle, North Pleasant Hill and Ygnacio Valley, all of which are scheduled to be in operation by 1960.

Wayne Henderson, principal of Pacifica High School and board president, said the proposed new alignment would hold up for only two years, after which a new set-up would be necessary.

THE PRESENT three-division arrangement has been in operation less than a year.

It has Acalanes, Las Lomas, Miramonte, Piedmont and San Ramon in the Foothill Division; Mt. Diablo, Antioch, Clayton Valley, Pittsburg, Pacifica and Pleasant Hill in the Contra Costa Division, and Alhambra, Amador, John Swett, Livermore, Liberty and Albany in the Eastbay Division.

Bulldogs Nip Budding Rams 10-2 in Hometown Contest

The Pleasant Hill Rams dropped a 10-2 basketball game to the Alhambra Bulldogs in a game played at the Pleasant Hill diamond.

Alhambra scored a run in the first and four in the second to go in front 5-0.

The Rams threatened with single runs in the fourth and sixth but the Martinez nine got the hardwood working in the top of the seventh to register five runs and wrapped it up when they shut out the Rams in their final turn at bat.

Each team wound up with three errors while Alhambra collected seven hits to Pleasant Hill's 5.

The only extra base blow was a double by the Rams' Bill Chappell. The hitting was well scattered with no player getting more than one safe blow.

BATTERIES: Pleasant Hill—Terry, Blardsell (4)) and Adams. Alhambra—Foresca, Rooney (4), Durkee (7) and Gianno-Tura (5).

Emeryville Shut Out By 3 Dons

Three Acalanes hurlers went the route last Tuesday afternoon to shut out Emeryville at the latter's diamond, 3-0.

It was fairly even in the hit department as the Dons had a slight 5-6 edge while Emeryville had two errors in the field and the Dons one.

ACALANES scored single runs in the first, second and third innings to notch the win.

The third and final run came in the third when Bob Marello led off with a single, was sacrificed to second by Bob Gillham and scored on Gary Hansen's sharp single to right field.

Batteries: Acalanes — Toll, Strain (3), Kritscher (5), and Pejovich, Cosso (5).

Emeryville—Diero, Regalli (4), Davis 6 and Hustead.

Albera Aces On Diablo 6

Pete Albera shot a hole-in-one at Diablo Country Club.

He aced the sixth hole, which is a par 3, 190 yard hole Saturday.

Pete lives in Diablo.

He used a 4 wood and was playing with a foursome consisting of Tony Burns, Howard Rossell, and Nick Rizzo.

Three Big Runs In Big Third Nets LL Victory

The Las Lomas Knights traveled to Vallejo last Friday afternoon and had one big inning, getting three runs in the third frame.

This proved to be just enough for the win as they allowed the Vallejo Apaches but two runs, both coming in the fourth inning.

The Knights got their runs when Bob Morris and Bob Gomez walked and Don Hopkins followed with a single to score Morris.

Jeff Beanbien singled to tally Gomez and Hopkins came home when Terry Siberlich followed with the inning's third hit—another single.

It was a tight ball game all the way with Vallejo getting but two hits while Las Lomas collected three more for a total of 6.

Las Lomas was charged with the game's only error and no player collected more than one safe blow.

Batteries: Vallejo — Thompson and Hannun. Las Lomas—Hopkins, Reamy (5) and Dodge, Stevenson (5).

Grand Slam Hit Beats CV Eagles

The Acalanes Dons wrapped up a practice game last Thursday when they made 6 hits produce 7 runs while limiting the visiting Eagles of Clayton Valley to two runs on 4 hits.

Each club accounted for two errors. They both collected a run each in the opening frame and that's the way it stayed until the bottom of the fourth when Acalanes combined four hits, a pair of errors and a walk to produce six runs.

The big blow was a bases-loaded home run off the bat of pinch hitter Lou Pejovich who blasted one to left center.

The Clayton nine got another run in the fifth on two hits and an error to wind up the scoring for the afternoon. Clayton had four hits to the Dons six.

Batteries: Clayton Valley — Wilber, Snyder (5) and Bankhead. Acalanes: Toll, Coss (5), Hennen and Pejovich.

No Errors, 6 Runs, 13 Hits, Beats Knight Horsehiders

The De Anza varsity baseball team played errorless ball last Tuesday afternoon and turned 13 hits into 6 runs to defeat the Las Lomas Knights who wound up with 4 runs on 7 hits.

De Anza chalked up four errors.

THE KNIGHTS gave the home fans a chance to cheer when they took a 1-0 lead in the first when second baseman Bob Morris walked. Then he stole second to be singled home by Jeff Beanbien who rapped out the single in his first time at bat.

De Anza knotted the count with a run of their own in the top of the fourth. The Knights took the lead again in the bottom of the fifth when they scored a pair of runs with Beanbien getting another single to drive in Morris and Gomez who had walked and been advanced on Don Hopkins' single to load the bases.

The lead was short-lived, however, when De Anza scored two in the sixth and iced it with three in the final seventh.

THE KNIGHTS' final score came in the bottom of the seventh after Morris and Gomez walked again and Beanbien also drew a pass on balls to plug the bases.

Larry Drummond drove in Morris with a single hit but De Anza closed the gate when they retired the side without any further scorings.

Beanbien with three for three—all singles—and Hopkins with a pair of singles in three times at bat, paced the Knight hitters.

De Anza's center fielder Tom Greene had a perfect day with four singles in four trips to the plate.

Batteries: Las Lomas — Hopkins, Reamy (5), Hansen (7) and Dodge.

De Anza—Stilwell, Kepper (6) and Melton, J. Green (3).

Mats Win Test Over Amador 9

Amador High or Pleasanton dropped a 7-1 decision to Miramonte last Thursday afternoon in a ball game played at the Orinda diamond.

Mac Hancock was in good mound form for the Matadors as he shut the visitors out for six innings before giving up a line run in the seventh.

It was an 0-0 ball game going into the bottom of the fifth when Miramonte scored a big four runs. It happened when Hancock, the lead-off batter, walked, John Walker singled and Bob Ellermeyer doubled to drive them in.

Dave Rhoda walked to make it two on again and when a wild pitch advanced the running, Bob Welch followed with a single to score two more and bring the count to 4-0.

The Matadors collected three insurance runs in the sixth which proved to be more than enough.

Fitzpatrick Is Still in Lead In Bowl Race

League - leading Fitzpatrick Chevrolet, led by Sadie Heath's 485 series, copped three points from the Paddock Coffee Shop in the last round at Paddock Bowl. Henri Burrichter was high for the losers with a 459.

Mac's Shell Station made a four-point sweep over Modern Eve. Donna Cooper and Judy Davidson shared high series honors for the winners by unleashing 507 series. Rita Ricetti rolled a 459 for the losers.

Uncorking a high 500 series, Stocky Thomas led Pacheco Inn to a three-point victory over Diablo Bowling Supply whose Helen Knott was high with a 476.

Behind Eleanor Timbrook's high 214 game and 562 series, Ralph's Drugs won three points from Della Pipa in spite of Lil Martinez' 548 series for the losers.

Tooty Anderson fired a 215 game and 528 series to lead Thomas Accounting to a three-point victory over Doug Dicker.

Acalanes Takes 2nd In Champs' Tourney

McClymond Finally Dumps Dons in End

The Acalanes Dons did themselves and the Diablo Valley Athletic League proud last weekend when they proved to be the surprise team of the Tournament of Champions.

The Dons wound up in second place when they lost out to McClymonds High of Oakland in Saturday night's final game.

IN ORDER to get to the finals, the Dons who were rated by one newspaper as a 100-1 shot, upset Polytechnic High of San Francisco in the first night of the tournament. 45-43.

The Dons had three scorers in double figures when Paul Colin had 15, Bill Yonge 14, and Mel Simpson 12.

The Dons trailed 16-22 at the half, but closed the gap to 30 all in the third quarter when Mel Simpson netted a pair of free throws and went ahead to stay when Yonge hit from 10 feet and Simpson hit for the side 20 feet out and Yonge hit on a free throw to make it 35-30.

POLY CLOSED the gap to 44-43 in the closing minute of play, but Simpson ended it all at 45-43 when he hit on a free throw seconds before the final buzzer.

Poly, a pre-tournament favorite had an 11-game winning streak going into tournament play.

Friday night found the Dons beating Sacramento High 52-49. Sacramento went into the tourney with an undefeated record of 24 consecutive wins.

THE DONS WERE paced by Bill Yonge who tanked 25 points. As in the Poly game, they trailed at the half and only went ahead in the fourth quarter 48-46 when Paul Colin hit on a layup.

Sacramento took a 49-48 lead when they followed with a field goal and a charity toss only to have Colin put the Dons in front to stay with a jump shot from 12 feet out to make it 50-49.

George McMeans iced the game when he tanked a pair of free throws in the closing seconds.

SATURDAY FOUND Acalanes meeting McClymonds which came into play with a record of 45 straight wins over a two-year period.

The Dons, cold at the hoop, lost out 32-24 but in so doing held the Mackmen to their lowest score in a long time.

McClymonds took a 6-1 first quarter lead and were never headed going to a 16-10 half-time edge.

Colin led the Don scorers with 11 while Charles McKinney of Mack had 14.

THE DONS WERE a standout with their fine all around tournament play which was a tribute to Coach Dan Glines' fine work and his club which went all out all the way.

It was the first try for Acalanes in the tournament and they rated as one of the best come-through performances.

Bill Yonge won a trophy as a member of the All-Star Team while Captain George McMeans brought home a trophy for the runner-up spot.

In addition, each team member received silver basketballs.

Bob Stevens Will Head Acalanes Varsity Club

Acalanes principal Stanley Walgren announced early this week that Robert Stevens will take over next year as varsity football coach at Acalanes.

The spot was left open when it was announced that headman Jack Carhart would move to Diablo Valley College as assistant football mentor in the fall.

Stevens, more often called Bob, has been a long time teacher and coach at Acalanes. He was varsity line coach for several seasons and in addition head coach of the Jayvees at which time he won several championships.

At present, Stevens is teaching crafts and working in counseling.

Stevens will be assisted by Rolfe "Buzz" Williams, who coached varsity line the past season.

Panthers Rip Matador Nine After Mats Drop Early Lead

The Miramonte varsity baseball team took an early lead in their home game with Antioch last Tuesday afternoon but couldn't hold it.

Antioch racked up a big seven runs in the fatal fifth inning to chalk up an 8-2 win.

MIRAMONTE'S first run came in the opening inning when second baseman Bob Ellermeyer singled with one out and the bases were loaded. Randy Young was safe on an error by the shortstop and catcher Bob Welch followed with a single.

Rob Anthonisen hit a sacrifice fly to score Ellermeyer from third.

In the second inning, Brad Tetess, third baseman, walked to receive an infield out up to third, scored on Ellermeyer's ground ball to short who booted it to Reeves, Antioch shortstop.

Brad Peters, third baseman, got 2 for 3, both singles.

The Matadors were ahead 2-0 when they scored in the second inning as freshman third baseman Brad Tetes walked. He went to second on a fielder's choice, took third on a wild pitch and rolled home when Antioch's shortstop booted a ground ball off the bat of Ellemeyer.

THAT ENDED Miramonte's scoring but not Antioch's, which came back with a vengeance, scoring seven runs in the fifth after getting one in the third.

Antioch wound up with 8 hits to Miramonte's 6. The visitors had 3 errors to the Matadors' 2.

Batteries: Miramonte—Hilger, Welch (4), Athonisen (7) and Welch Albo (4). z

Antioch—Routee and Louis.

Hi-Fi Records Offered By Hagstrom Food Store

What amounts to a "liberal education" in fine music — through authoritative program notes, an elaborate guide to music appreciation, and a collection of 16 high-fidelity philharmonic record albums—is now available within the means of every hi-fi record player owner in this area.

THIS entertaining and highly educational series of hi-fi recordings (50 to 55 minutes per album) with related literature is now being offered on an album-a-week purchase plan at all Hagstrom's food stores, according to Otto Henningsen, manager of the firm's Orinda supermarket.

"The splendid reception given our recent offering of a complete home library encyclopedia set has indicated to us that our customers are acutely interested in providing in their homes a background which stimulates interest in learning and knowledge," Calvin Hagstrom, the company's vice-president indicated this week.

"THE MUSIC of many of the world's great masters in this philharmonic library brings a thrilling world of musical pleasure within the financial means of almost every family," he said.

The first album sells for 49 cents on an introductory basis.

IN TEN SHORT YEARS...

an American Tradition

Ten years ago today something wonderful happened to cross-country railroad travel. Western Pacific placed in service a brand new train between San Francisco-Oakland and Chicago. This was no ordinary train. It was the California Zephyr, a sleek, stainless-steel streamliner with this startling innovation: glass Vista-Domes. Thus began a new era in the history of transcontinental travel.

The California Zephyr immediately captured the imagination of the traveling public. And its continuing popularity is one of the great success stories in the world of travel.

Travel Editors have devoted many pages to the California Zephyr; it's been featured on radio and television; it's starred in motion pictures. In ten short years, it's become an American tradition.

IN TEN SHORT YEARS...
This train has added a new dimension to cross-country travel

Riding up in a Vista-Dome, high above the rails, you can look up at snow-capped mountain peaks; look down into great chasms; look all around at the vast expanse of unspoiled wilderness along the scenic route of the California Zephyr. It's a great show, and upstairs in one of the five Vista-Domes, you have the best seat in the house!

IN TEN SHORT YEARS...
This train has become the symbol of luxurious transcontinental travel

Just as in a fine hotel, you live graciously aboard the California Zephyr. You can make dinner reservations in the Dining Car; enjoy the Buffet Lounge and unique three-level Observation Lounge Car; be served by a hand-picked corps of porters and waiters. And in your spacious Pullman accommodations you enjoy the same standards of privacy as in your own home.

IN TEN SHORT YEARS...
This train has opened the West's most spectacular scenery to thousands of visitors

The California Zephyr was designed and scheduled for sightseeing. You travel the entire length of Feather River Canyon, across the High Sierras, and through the very heart of the mighty Colorado Rockies during daylight hours. At night, you speed smoothly and swiftly across the desert and plains.

IN TEN SHORT YEARS...
This train has become the most popular of all transcontinental streamliners

Even before they leave the train, passengers are busy writing their friends about the wonders of the California Zephyr and its scenic route. The result: even more people traveled aboard this Vista-Dome streamliner in 1958 than in the first twelve months it was in service!

A Real, Sheer Pleasure! A Verdict on New Shirts:

Men are going to find new warm-weather shirts a sheer pleasure, according to the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear.

Outstanding news in the business shirt department, based on advance reports from the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers Convention at the Palmer House, February 22-25, is that sheer fabrics in new style ideas and collar styles are due this Spring and Summer, plus the fact that wash-wear shirts have been given the fashion treatment.

The wash-wear types, previously available only in whites, are now here in colors and patterns, as well as many interesting pocket, sleeve and placket treatments.

Featherweight air-cooled fabrics that include open-weave skipdents and lenos are tailored in half-sleeve models.

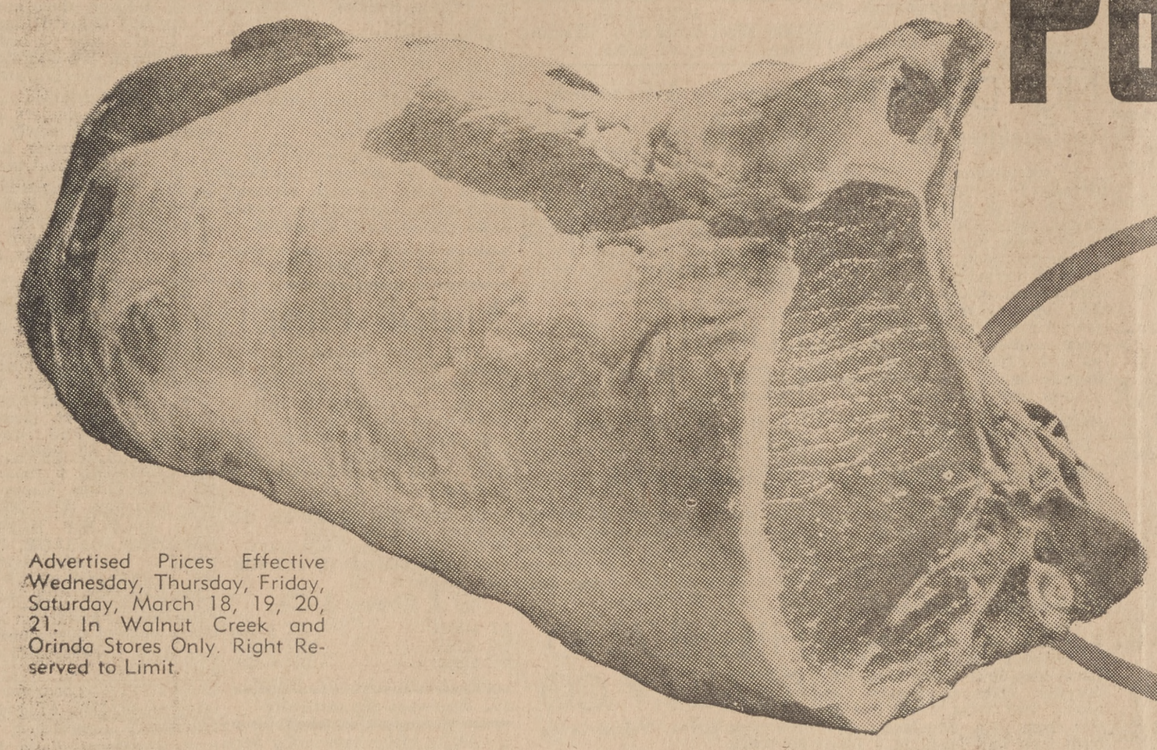

While the vanishing neckband convertible collars will be extremely popular because of their low cut comfort, there also will be tab collars, pin-tab collars, button-down collars and round-pin collars for fellows who want their regular snappy Winter styles in Summer shirts.

Lightweight batiste oxfords and end-and-end madrases will appeal to the Ivy fans in their favorite models, too.

Realtors Take State Posts

Four members of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board have been appointed to committees of the California Real Estate Association for 1959.

They are as follows: William F. Anderson, legislative steering committee; Bill Hayward, membership committee; Ray McCoy, subdivision activities committee; Mildred Tinker, Women's Division.

Art Ass'n Members to Hear UC Art Professor

Professor James McCray will speak at the Diablo Art Association meeting on Monday at 8 p.m. at the Walnut Creek Recreation Center, Civic Drive.

He will compare the work of contemporary artists with those of the past and will illustrate his lecture with colored slides.

Program chairman Earl Allen invited all interested in art to attend.

Prof. McCray, a resident of Walnut Creek, teaches painting, drawing, and art appreciation at the University of California, and he is a well-known lecturer and judge in the art field.

His basic art training was gained at Philadelphia's Barnes Foundation, at the University of California, and through extensive travel and study in Europe. He has exhibited his work in Paris, Chicago and San Francisco.

After Prof. McCray's talk, an informal coffeetime will be held and members and guests are invited to bring their work for informal discussion.

At this time President Mary Wav will tell of her forthcoming European art tour.

Lorraine Myatt, membership chairman, said several new members have joined the organization. They are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Outerside, Dr. Bella Singer, Patricia Mervin and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pastorio of Walnut Creek; Alice Norris of Danvtille; John W. Fontenot of Martinez; Marian Martin of Berkeley; George P. Hauch of Hayward; and Herbert Louis of Oakland.

Exhibit chairman Ruth Hussey announced an extension of the Diablo Art Association's rental gallery system.

Original art will now be offered for rent and sale at three locations to accommodate the public. The Suburban Carpet Store and Sears in Walnut Creek, and at the Nut Bowl in Pleasant Hill.

As the rental paintings are on three-month rotation, prospective lenders and purchasers are advised to make repeat visits to the showings in making their selections. Mrs. Hussey plans to lecture on the Diablo Art Association and exhibit her portrait at the Glenwood Women's Club luncheon in Oakland on April 2.

A new art class will be offered by Patricia Mervin on "Sketching Fundamentals" at Las Lomas High School starting April 1 from 7-10 p.m.

United Crusade Annual Meeting Is Wednesday

President is Duncan Knudsen of Lafayette.

The meeting will be held at the Bermuda Room of the Richmond Auditorium, Nevins and 24th Street, Richmond.

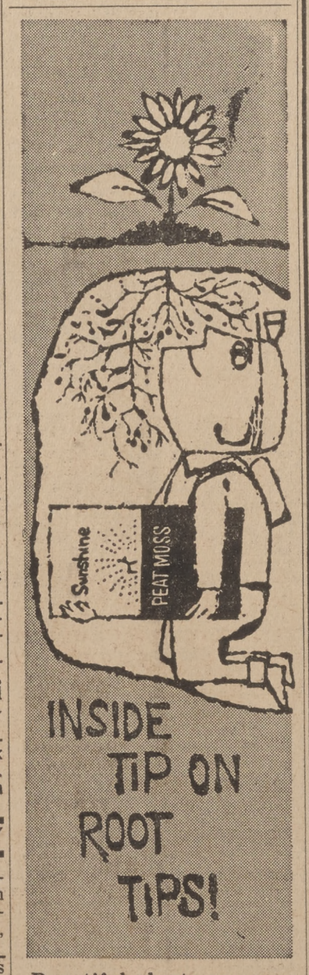

A large section of the meeting will be devoted to a presentation and discussion of the proposed budget and allocations program recently presented by members of a special committee on United Bay Area Crusade Allocations program.

Beautiful plants are completely dependent on healthy roots, but roots are healthy only if their delicate tips get the right amount of moisture and water from conditioned soil. Mix 2 to 4 inches of Sunshine into the top 8 inches of your soil and have strong-rooted plants — beautiful plants. The reason: it's Sphagnum, best because it has long-lasting — and the highest — organic content, and holds the most water.

Boys Wanting Work May Try Apricot Lands

Apricot orchard owners will hire from 175 to 275 high school-age boys this spring, according to Lt. Robert Bahl, chairman of the Committee on Youth Employment in Central and Eastern Contra Costa County.

The jobs will be in the eastern part of the county, where "The first real apricot crop in two years," is ripening.

A training program will be conducted from April 27 to May 1 for interested boys, Bahl said.

3 Broadway Fashion Shows Planned

Lovely models—beautiful fashions!

Four very simple words, but with them is carried a myriad of vivid pictures to young and old. And these four simple words describe just what will be seen tonight and Saturday afternoon, free of charge, in the Broadway Shopping Center, Walnut Creek.

FASHION SHOWS which will thrill the ladies and make those young adult hearts sing will be modeled at Country Girl tonight; Joseph Magnin, and Goldman's Saturday afternoon.

The Expectation Shop will show some of its latest spring fashions in the JM show Saturday at 2:15 and Klad-ezee will share the spotlights with Country Girl this evening.

Goldman's will present its fashions at 1:30 Saturday afternoon.

EACH OF THE gala parades will be one half hour in duration and Saturday afternoon there will be 15 minutes in between the Goldman's and Joseph Magnin shows to insure ample time to patrons to get from one showing to the other.

An invitation to the fashion parades was issued yesterday by Betty Batesole, member of the Broadway Merchants Committee and manager of JM.

"The stores participating in the fashion shows at the Broadway Shopping Center would certainly urge our many customers and new friends to participate in the three programs which are being given Friday evening and Saturday afternoon. It is our way of showing, first hand, the very best is always offered in the Broadway Shopping Center," she commented.

Capwell's, Mt. Diablo Y Celebrating Y's Birthday

The Mt. Diablo YMCA and Capwell's joined together this week to celebrate the first anniversary of the 'Y' in the Diablo area.

As part of the celebration John Tague, Capwell's Walnut Creek manager, and John Price, executive secretary of the YMCA, took a ride in Walnut Creek in one of the 1901 "Merry Oldsmobile's" which are available at Capwell's.

A replica of the 1901 Oldsmobile can be ordered at Capwell's—Walnut Creek. The replica of the famous old "merry Olds" will be on display at the store's Broadway entrance window from Thursday to March 31.

For $1650 plus tax, license and required equipment any salesman in Capwell's Men's Department will be glad to help you "wrap up your 'Merry Olds' " for the "man who has everything".

In addition it is very handy for around-town shopping for the busy housewife, or a very unique delivery wagon, Tague noted.

The new "Merry Olds" duplicates the original 1901 model practically down to the last bolt except that many safety features are included.

New car features incorporated include a powerful four horsepower engine and an automatic clutch with two forward speeds and one reverse. For lazy drivers an electric starter is available. Internal expanding brakes and sealed beam headlights in huge brass lamp housings will be standard features.

The "Merry Olds" will present unparalleled "panoramic visibility" with its high buckboard bench seat. Foam rubber cushions with plastic covers will be standard equipment, Tague continued.

The new 1901 Olds will do 35 m.p.h. with a fabulous 67 miles to a gallon on its bicycle type wheels and genuine Goodyear diamond tread tires. Steering is done with a tiller; and pedestrians will be warned by a honk from the traditional rubber bulb horn.

The new "Backward Look" model comes in a choice of colors—black with red trim, red with black trim and ivory with black trim, Tague concluded.

Theosophists Hold Annual Spring Meet

The Northern California Federation of Theosophical Lodges recently held its spring meeting at Community Hall, 1535 Bonanza, Walnut Creek, with Contra Costa County Lodge as host.

Forty-one officers and members from a wide area attended. Mrs. Ruth L. Doak, Redwood City, president of the Federation guided business section, after greetings from local president Mrs. Leona Parker.

A special presentation of Contra Costa County Lodge activities, "Mountains Have a Message," was introduced and oriented by George A. Bartholomew, Walnut Creek.

Participants were: Mrs. Margaret Batt, Martinez; Miss Elise Albright, Walnut Creek; Charles Tyldsley, Oakland; Mrs. Leona Parker, Berkeley; Edward Martin, Berkeley.

'High' Is New Look In Dresses

Dresses are taking the high road to fashion this spring, "high" meaning anything that is, or looks as if it is, above the normal waistline. While there aren't too many with true empire lines, a wide variety of "lifted looks" and "short-waisted" looks may be chosen to flatter many different figure types.

One of the favored ways to achieve this look is through dress and jacket costumes, composed of dresses with a closer-to-the-body fit and jackets that stop just below the bustline

The trick may also be turned by mock bolero effects, contrast bodices, high-placed bows, inset bands, seaming or buttons. Then there are high-rising contoured belts, sashes, draped scarves and draw-strings, all of which contribute to the "lifted look" for dresses.

Alternates to the high-rise effect are offered by many dresses with natural waistlines, some with dropped waistlines, and princess styles. Blousons continue as a popular favorite, with the blousing often starting above the waist. Tunics provide a new and fashionable look for still other dresses.

Wide belts and pretty bodice treatments give freshness to the many spring '59 versions of the shirtwaist, the sheath and the bouffant.

Neckline interest centers around large collars, usually standing away from the neck and often pleated, fluted or folded. Spring-like lingerie touches of white linen, lace or organdy are favored.

Costume Ideas

Pretty version of the costume suit has a print blouse with the new wider collar, which also serves as the collar of the suit. Other suits are ready for day or evening roles, with decollete satin overblouses.

Shoe Colors Feature Five Top Families

Color becomes a family affair in women's shoes for spring — a five-family affair, in fact. Grouped according to popularity, the five top families of fashion colors in leather shoes include hot pinks, brilliant reds, bright blues, light salad greens going into Irish greens and avocados, and deep, hot oranges and sea corals.

Other favored colors are mauve-pinks, lilacs and deep purples, featured mainly in dress shoes. Continuing in popularity, too, is the beige-to-brown group, including bone, toast and the grayed browns.

Particularly beautiful are these dazzling colors interpreted in new calfskins that are silky soft with a subdued luster, shown for dressy, casual or street wear.

Use of multicolor for spring shoes is best interpreted in casual styles, but two-tone combinations are seen in daytime and dress shoes — blue brushed leather with accents of green smooth leather, geranium pink with pale orange in smooth, lustrous leathers, blued shocking pinks with lilac leather.

Floral Show Winners are Announced

They are as follows: Prelude to spring category, Walnut Creek Garden Club, arranged by Mrs. Julian Ramell; Pacifica category, Contra Costa County Pharmaceutical Association, Women's Auxiliary arranged by Mrs. King Tolles, and symphony in song "scarlet ribbons" by Linnet Junior unit, arranged by Mrs. Thomas Nylon.

In popular voting Mrs. Donald Johnson announced the following winners: Prelude to spring category, Cardinal unit of Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, first, and Pied Piper Cooperative Play School Association, second place.

In the Pacifica category Women's Auxiliary to Contra Costa Medical Association, first, and Swallow unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, second.

In the symphony in song category, Humpty Dumpty Chapter of Children's Home Society, first place, and Hummingbird unit of Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, second place.

Three tea tables, one in yellow — one in blue — and one in pink graced the Diablo Country Club banquet room. They were arranged by Mrs. Edward P. Lazzareschi, assisted by Mrs. Robert Kuhn.

All the proceeds from this event will be given to the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center to help carry on their work. Last year's proceeds netted about $1300 for the center.

Favor Fit

Closer to the body is the fitting trend of spring fashions, but the "poured-in" look is avoided.

Spring Buds Brighten Bridge Event

Spring flowers brightened the Orinda Country Club Wednesday at the monthly bridge and luncheon party.

Attending were Mesdames Dean Bouman, Leonard Hagstrom, Edward Garwood, James Kincaid and King Wilkin.

DRIVE WITH CARE

Drive with more care during rainy weather, advises the National Automobile Club.

Gloves Show Elegant Airs, Varied Trims

Gloves have an especially elegant look this spring. Trimming techniques are many and varied and always subtle. Typical are all-over pin tucks, appliques and discreet beading.

Embroideries have a handmade, delicate air. They appear in both vivid colors and such soft shades as pale green, blue and yellow. Some are empire-inspired designs of fruits and flowers.

Eyelets and perforations serve as decorations

Pebble Beach

Local residents who recently spent a few days at Del Monte Lodge, Pebble Beach included Mr. and Mrs. George U. Wood of Brookbank Road, Lafayette, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Wright of Orinda.

Gowns from Hit Movies To be Seen at Capwell's

Academy Award-winning fashions from "Gigi" will be modeled in Capwell's "MGM Festival of Fashions" style show on Monday, March 23, in the second floor Corset Shop at 2:30 p.m.

Besides the prize-winning designs by Cecil Beaton, other historical costumes from past MGM hits will be shown.

THE LATEST spring fashions from Capwell's own collection will also be modeled along with a showing of Paris-inspired undergarments by Hollywood V-ette and Vassarette.

Ruth Schandorff, special MGM fashion representative, will be at Capwell's show to introduce the costumes and to describe the research development in their design.

THE CAPWELL'S fashions will be a glimpse of their spring line featuring the "return to the waist" look, according to June Lewis, Capwell's fashion coordinator.

Selected sportswear, daytime dresses, sheaths and suits will be modeled with Hollywood V-ette and Vassarette providing the foundation for the 1959 return to the waistline.

BESIDES the featured costumes worn by Leslie Caron and Eva Gabor in "Gigi," historical gowns from past MGM epics will be modeled in the cavalcade of fashion.

Works by famed movie designer Walter Plunkett include Katherine Hepburn's bridal gown from "Sea of Grass" fashioned of rich brocade and pearl embroidery with a bustle of the 1880's.

AVA GARDNER'S entertainer's costume from "Showboat" will be in silk and satin trimmed with sequins in gathered draperies accenting the bust and bustle of that era.

Elizabeth Taylor's "Raintree County" gown in pink and white taffeta and mousseline with Swiss embroidery is worn with the crinoline fashionable just prior to the Civil War.

Lana Turner's costume from "Diane" in her role as mistress to French King Henry II is a two piece dress with detachable sleeves, giving infinite variation in the intricate and costly trimmings of gold, silver and precious stones.

FAMED designer Adrian will be represented by a queenly gown worn by Norma Shearer in "Marie Antoinette" of white velveteen and satin with a delicate flower trim of pearls, rhinestones, jet beads and silvered lace.

They're Reversible

"Reversible" is the important trend in new coats and jackets. Solid color on one side, print on another is a popular turnabout effect. Other reversibles offer a quick change from color to color and from fabric to fabric.

Park System Need is Topic

Contra Costa County high school students are participating in an essay contest sponsored by the Contra Costa Park and Recreation Council and the San Ramon Valley Writers Workshop.

Subject of the contest is "Why You Need a County Park System".

Prizes include $50 and $25 savings bonds.

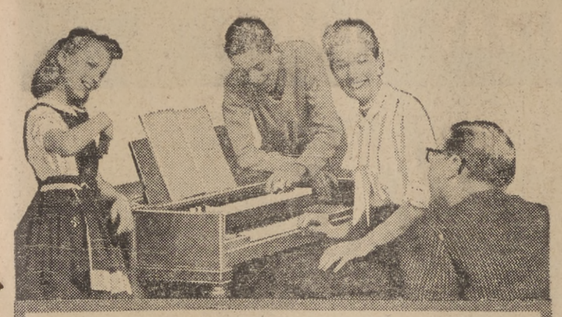

Winners will be entertained at the annual May Banquet of the Writers Workshop and prize winning essays will be published in the next Workshop Annual.

Committee chairmen for the essay contest are Mr. Al Burton of the Park Council and Mr. Thomas Miller of the Writers Workshop.
